Soviets Demand U.S. Pull Out of Viet Nam

Foreign Minister Makes Major Policy Declaration Before General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union replied today to the latest U.S. Viet Nam peace proposals by demanding the immediate withdrawal of all U.S. forces as the only way to peace.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the U.N. General Assembly in a major policy declaration "there are still no signs testifying to the seriousness of the intention of Washington to seek a settlement" of the Viet Nam war.

He dismissed the latest proposals of U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg as part of a "so-called peace offensive" and said each new peace move was followed by "a further escalation of aggressive actions."

Answer Simple

"Where is the solution of the Viet Nam problem to be found?" Gromyko asked.

The answer, he said, "is simple and logical: unconditional cessation of the bombing of the territory of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam, withdrawal of all armed forces of the United States and their allies from South Viet Nam, removal of foreign armaments, the granting to the Vietnamese people of a chance to settle their internal problems themselves."

"The aggressor has come to Viet Nam; the aggressor should leave," he said.

Gromyko declared that it was the duty of every government "to declare its support to the heroic Vietnamese people, from this rostrum, to denounce American aggression, to demand its unconditional termination in the north and south of Viet Nam, to demand the withdrawal of all armed forces of the United States and their allies from Viet Nam."

Repeats Pledge

Gromyko repeated the Soviet pledge to render all necessary assistance to the Viet Nam Communists.

On other issues, Gromyko submitted three draft resolutions for assembly consideration backing up his attack on U.S. policy.

They were:

A resolution requesting all states to refrain from all actions which would hamper agreement on nonproliferation of nuclear weapons until a treaty on that subject is concluded.

A resolution calling for condemnation of all forms of intervention in the domestic affairs of states, and warning states which undertake armed intervention in the domestic affairs of states that they must accept responsibility for the consequences.

A resolution requesting states possessing military bases in Asia, Africa and Latin America to disband them at once "and not establish them in the future."

Washington Proposals

This appeared aimed at Washington-sponsored proposals for nuclear sharing among the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

The U.S. offer of a mutual de-escalation of the war was made in the assembly debate Thursday by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Prepared to Stop

He said the United States is prepared to stop all bombing of

Bayonet May Be Weapon in Percy Killing

Knife Found in Lake Michigan Near Family Home

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — The Kenilworth police chief says a bayonet found in Lake Michigan "could be the weapon" with which Valerie Percy, 21, was stabbed repeatedly by her killer.

But a Chicago police crime laboratory technician said the bayonet bore no traces of blood, hair or fingerprints.

Sgt. Irvin Haviland of the crime laboratory said Thursday night that although the Army-type bayonet was not rusty, it was not a new one. He said it had several nicks on it. The weapon has a 10-inch blade, with a 4-inch black plastic handle.

Double-Edged Weapon

A coroner's aide said the multiple stab wounds in Valerie's body were inflicted with a double-edged weapon such as a bayonet. He added, however, that the weapon used to bludge-

North Viet Nam Hit In Raids by B52s

Fourth Time in War Guam-Based Bombers Have Hit Red Sector

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Highflying U.S. B52s bombed Communist North Viet Nam Thursday night for the fourth time in the war.

The bombers unloaded tons of explosives on ammunition dumps, truck parks and storage depots in the southern end of North Viet Nam above the demilitarized zone.

The heavy raid was part of the new U.S. aerial offensive in the southern Panhandle to halt North Vietnamese infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam through the demilitarized zone.

Earlier Waves

The B52 raid was preceded Thursday by waves of U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine bombers which hammered also at the infiltration routes in the southern section of North Viet Nam.

Infantrymen of the South Vietnamese 22nd Division reported driving back successive waves of attacks today by two battalions of Viet Cong, an estimated 1,000 men.

A Vietnamese military spokesman said 150 Viet Cong were killed in three hours of close-quarter fighting before dawn. He estimated that the enemy carried away 100 more dead and wounded.

The fighting took place in jungled mountain country 277 miles northeast of Saigon near the central coast. The action was only 12 miles from where Vietnamese troops reported killing some 200 Viet Cong Sept. 8.

The Vietnamese spokesman said seven Viet Cong were captured in today's battle, including one company commander and two platoon leaders. He said government infantrymen were supported by artillery, air strikes and armored cars which accounted for many enemy dead.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong objective was to capture the command post of the 41st Regiment of the South Vietnamese 22nd Division. He said government forces captured 51 weapons including anti-aircraft and machine guns. Vietnamese

Gov. Wallace Faces Another Contempt Suit

NAACP Motion Claims Violations Of Court Order

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace faced a contempt of court showdown for the second time in his turbulent career today as Negroes sought to speed up school integration in Alabama.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed a motion in federal court charging Wallace with violating a two-year-old court order.

They asked the three-judge court to hold the segregationist governor in civil contempt — which could bring an indefinite jail sentence — or, in the alternative, to order total statewide desegregation.

The NAACP motion contended the governor has disregarded an injunction handed down by the three-judge court July 13, 1964, prohibiting him from:

"Interfering with, preventing or obstructing by any means the elimination of racial discrimination by local school officials."

Failing to use his authority as governor to "promote and encourage" desegregation.

Since that time, the petition charged, Wallace — whose wife, Lurleen, is running for governor to succeed him — has committed repeated acts "with the sole purpose and effect of" preventing and discouraging school integration.

Among them, it said, was the role he played in getting the Legislature to enact a state law prohibiting city and county school boards from agreeing to comply with integration guidelines laid down by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

'Keep America Beautiful' Award to Go to Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Wisconsin's war on ugliness, headed for the last year by Thomas Branagan of Appleton, was hailed today by Gov. Warren P. Knowles as he announced that the state has been selected to receive the 1966 national Keep America Beautiful state award.

Branagan, formerly chairman of the Governor's Committee to Keep Wisconsin Clean and Beautiful and now a member of the new State Beauty Council, was at the governor's side at a press conference called to announce the presentation.

Knowles will travel to New York Nov. 10 to accept the 6th annual award from the private national beautification committee. The governor noted that the state, a leader in efforts to maintain natural beauty since the presentation of national "All American City Award" to Green Bay in 1965, has shown dramatic effects in its campaign to clean up.

Cleanup costs for the 11,000-mile rural state trunk highway system have dropped over $90,000 in the past two years, according to Knowles.

Thomas Branagan

Conferences scheduled by Branagan's committee and legislation subsequently passed by the Legislature led to the formation of state and local beauty councils, now heading the war on litter and other unnatural formations.

Accompanying Branagan to the press conference was his 12-year-old son, Thomas Jr.

Knowles also lashed out at critics of state efforts in water conservation, calling them "politically motivated speech-makers."

"Wisconsin's rivers are not sewers and its lakes are not cesspools," Knowles said, adding that much clean water remains in the state and that Wisconsin's image is being damaged by those who claim otherwise.

"Wisconsin's record is not as bad as some people say," the governor said.

Goldberg Outlines Terms

U.N. Plea as Far as U.S. Can Go

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Using the United Nations as a global sounding board, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg went about as far as the United States thought he safely could in trying to set off a new wave of peace-seeking to end the war in Viet Nam.

Administration officials considered that Goldberg's U.N. General Assembly speech Thursday gave the sharpest, most concise and most positive definition yet of the terms on which the momentum of the conflict could be slowed.

Johnson administration leaders clearly hope, furthermore, that many nations will find ways to press these terms urgently upon the Communist leaders in Hanoi and even on the leaders of the Communist National Liberation Front, which is the political arm of the Viet Cong forces fighting in South Viet Nam.

Positive Assertion
Goldberg's statements of the conditions under which the United States would halt the bombing of the North, withdraw its forces from the South and the possibility of U.S. negotiations with the Viet Cong, among others, had all been set forth previously in some form.

What he added was conciseness and a positive assertion of U.S. willingness, stressing an American commitment to halt the bombing if North Viet Nam would simply say in advance what it was prepared to do about slowing down its role in the war in the South.

He also made a positive offer to spell out in detail arrangements for withdrawal of U.S. forces, provided only that the Communist side would enter into a program for withdrawal of its forces from South Viet Nam.

Question Hanoi
Goldberg then sought to reinforce the thrust of these propositions in his declaration that the Viet Cong negotiation issue could be solved. He directly urged U.N. members to put the question to Hanoi specifically on the terms he offered.

U.S. officials have very little optimism, however, about any favorable reply from Communist China's small neighbor and partial satellite.

The fact is that all recent peace offensives, probes and propositions put to North Vietnamese leaders through public or diplomatic channels have been rebuffed, according to U.S.

Indians Not Starving

'Mercy Mission' Is Stymied by Mexico

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — A drive to help Mexico's Tarahumara Indians was stymied today by the Mexican government's refusal to let Lafayette's "gift of love" go south of the border.

The gift consisted of 10 freight cars loaded with food, medicine, clothing and farming tools. Volunteers packed the cars with donations after a Roman Catholic priest said the Tarahumaras are starving.

In Mexico City Thursday night the Treasury Ministry said that allowing Lafayette to help the Tarahumaras would indicate that the government was unable to care for its own citizens.

"Mercy Mission"

The "mercy mission" to the Tarahumaras, who live in primitive conditions, received another blow Wednesday night when a plane crashed 235 miles south of El Paso, Tex., killing a priest and a nun.

They were Father Ernesto Uranga of Chihuahua City, Mexico, and Sister Lourdes Ramirez, formerly of El Paso. They were carrying medical supplies and food to the Indians.

Gordon Blake, an engineer who directed the drive for donations, said the Mexican reaction to the Lafayette effort came as a shock.

Not Stopping

"The train is rolling, we are not stopping the train," he said. "We know nothing of the politics of this thing. We know only that the help is needed."

The load of supplies for the Tarahumaras was gathered in the Lafayette area after an appeal from Father Luis Verplancken, a Jesuit missionary who once lived in Lafayette.

Father Verplancken said the death toll among the Tarahumaras due to starvation had reached 200 a day. The tribe is located in Chihuahua State, adjoining Texas.

The governor of Chihuahua, Gen. Praxedes Ciner Duran, denied the priest's statement regarding hundreds of starvation deaths.

"The report is criminal," he said.

The 10 freight cars left Lafayette Thursday as part of a train. They were at Houston, Tex., early today, with San Antonio and El Paso the next stops. El Paso is on the border.

officials, with a flat insistence by those leaders that their conditions for peace must be met if there is ever to be a settlement.

Their basic stated conditions have been that the United States must agree to accept Viet Cong terms for the future of South Viet Nam.

Critical Question

The critical question which U.S. officials keep pondering is this: At what point may the leadership in Hanoi, subject to reverses on the ground in the South and a steady aerial pounding in the North, undergo a change of mind?

Administration policymakers feel that the military struggle will very likely run on into the early part of next year, with a further heavy buildup of U.S. forces and further severe damage to the Viet Cong positions on the ground in the South, before there is a serious possibility of change in Hanoi.

The practical effect of Goldberg's strategy in the United Nations Thursday may thus lie more in the future than in the present. This is true particularly if his speech is to be taken, as presumably many diplomats will take it, as a basic document in the diplomatic side of the conflict in Viet Nam.

Russian Paper Says Red Guards Guilty Of Murdering Officials

MOSCOW (AP) — Chinese Defense Minister Lin Biao's young Red Guards are beating and murdering Chinese Communist party officials, the Communist party organ Pravda reported from Peking today.

A long dispatch described many brutal acts by the young militants unleashed by China's new No. 2 man to root out evidences of foreign influence and opposition to the teaching of Mao Tse-tung.

The Red Guards now are under daily attack in Soviet papers.

Governors Called For Economy Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called in a group of governors today to talk over efforts to stabilize the economy.

The White House did not elaborate on its statement that several governors were invited to an 11:30 a.m. session with the President. Nor did it announce the names of those invited.

In discussions on the booming economy and inflationary pressures, Johnson has appealed to various segments of public and private life to lend a hand in helping to promote stability.

Labor, Business

He has appealed to organized labor to proceed cautiously on pay increase demands, to businessmen to hold the line on prices, and to governors and mayors to join with the federal government in economizing.

The House Ways and Means Committee got in step with Johnson Thursday by approving a slightly modified version of his request for suspension of two business tax breaks.

It voted to suspend from last Sept. 9 until Dec. 31, 1967, most of the 7 per cent investment credit which was designed to spur business expansion.

It also voted to suspend for the same period two of three fast depreciation formulas used in constructing buildings and apartment houses which are not subject to the investment credit.

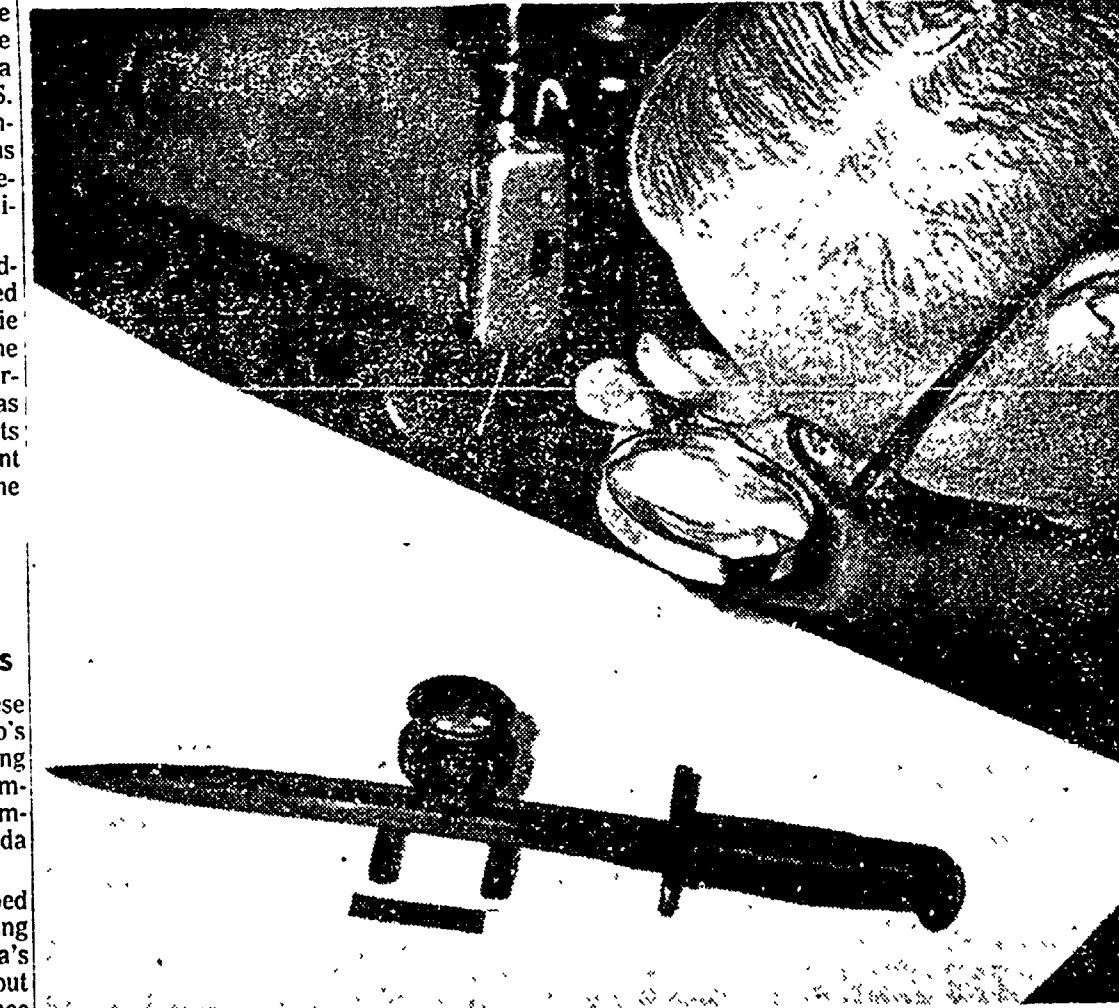

The committee, however, discarded Johnson's request to also suspend the third of the rapid depreciation formulas.

It also left one vestige of the 7 per cent credit: The credit can be applied to the first $15,000 in purchases during the suspension period. This mainly will help small businesses and farmers.

Other technical amendments to the Johnson proposal will soften slightly the tax blow to business.

For the federal government, Johnson has set a goal of cutting $3 billion from spending originally contemplated in the Committee got in step with Johnson Thursday by approving a slightly modified version of his request for suspension of two business tax breaks.

Humphrey Not Too Certain of Plans for 1968

Johnson Keeping Reporters Guessing, Just as in 1964

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plays it so close to the chest even the man he picked to be one heartbeat away from the presidency, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, is left looking uninformed.

This isn't the way President John F. Kennedy treated his vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson, who has made a career of secret-keeping until he is ready for disclosures in his own good time, and for his own reasons.

The way Johnson dismissed a question about Humphrey this week creates a new question: Will he repeat his 1964 performance of leaving Humphrey hanging on the hook till the last minute?

Incredible Silence

In the 1964 election year, when the country had no vice president, Johnson kept an almost incredible silence about the man he wanted for his running mate. He gave the impression of agonizing over the decision.

Humphrey, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others were publicly talked about as likely prospects. Johnson said nothing. Then, shortly before the Democratic convention opened in August, Johnson eliminated Kennedy.

He just simply announced no member of his Cabinet, which included Kennedy, would be considered. But Johnson gave no indication he favored Humphrey until the moment before he boarded a plane here for the convention.

Last Minute

Then he told newsmen his choice was Humphrey. And shortly afterwards at the convention he explained why he had reached this decision, describing Humphrey as the "best-equipped man in this nation to be president if anything happened to the president."

But it could hardly have taken

Johnson all those months, right up to the last minute, to reach such an appraisal of Humphrey, who had worked with him in the Senate for years and had been his chief lieutenant there.

Since the election Humphrey has been the hardest-working vice president in history, not because of a special quality which makes him different from his predecessors but because Johnson has given him more work to do.

He has piled assignments and responsibilities on Humphrey. The vice president has been running up and down the countryside making speeches and is so loyal to Johnson that some of his liberal admirers have soured on him.

More Enthusiastic But Robert F. Kennedy, now a U.S. senator from New York, has been running up and down making speeches and getting more enthusiastic receptions than Humphrey at a time when Johnson's standing in the public opinion polls has been falling.

One poll reported a majority of Democrats quizzed preferred Kennedy over Johnson for president in 1968.

This, of course, raises some questions of its own: Will Kennedy try to get the nomination from Johnson in 1968? And will Johnson, if he runs again, want Humphrey for a running mate for a second time?

It's a question which must bother Humphrey and make him feel uncertain. Otherwise, why would he have felt compelled to talk as he did in St. Louis on Sept. 17 when he knows it irks Johnson for anyone to reveal his secrets?

No Comment

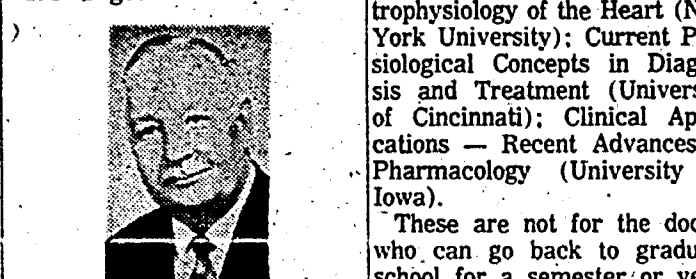

He said he felt sure Johnson would want him as vice president again and quoted the President as recently telling a White House dinner of labor leaders: "As long as I am President I want Vice President Humphrey by my side."

But this week, asked at his news conference about what Humphrey said and the discussion it has caused, Johnson brushed aside the question: "I don't think I would comment. I'll just let you all go on and debate."

That wasn't the way President Kennedy acted toward Vice President Johnson in 1963, with the 1964 elections a little more than a year away. Asked if he ran again would he still want Johnson as vice president, Kennedy said: "Yes, to both questions."

hearing an occasional lecture or skimming through a medical journal in the evening, hoping that the phone won't ring.

As an example, I have a list of postgraduate courses offered by the American College of Physicians, 20 of them in the next nine months. Various schools and clinics are hosts, with experts gathered from all over the country.

The courses cost each doctor from $60 to $100, plus as much more for food, lodging and travel, with four to five days of study.

The current course is sponsored by the University of Minnesota and the Mayo Clinic on advances in skin treatment for internists.

These are not for the doctor who can go back to graduate school for a semester or year, but for the practicing physician who can put in a week of concentrated study.

The American College of Surgeons, American Academy of General Practice, American Psychiatric Association and many more specialized groups also offer national or regional sessions.

No doctor, even if he were twins, could attend all the sessions, not to mention staff meetings, local specialty groups and state and county medical societies.

The foregoing should give readers some inkling of the life-long study that it takes for doctors to keep up with modern medicine.

Dear Dr. Molner: I thought my daughter was not eating right so I am giving her vitamins and iron. Now I have been told they will affect her menstruation — she is 14 and just beginning. Is this true? —Mrs. S.

No, it is not true. However, giving vitamins and iron sounds a bit like guesswork. Why not have your doctor examine the girl to see if something else is involved?

Note to Mrs. M.S.: Yes, birth control pills, in some individuals, can cause restlessness and stomach upsets such as you describe. On your second question, I think you are mistaken about efforts to pass a law limiting the length of time they can be taken. At least, I know of no such attempts. Some physicians, however, limit use of the pills after a few years.

LBJ Orders More Planes for Use in Viet Nam Air War

280 Additional Craft Will be Produced Due to Heavy Loses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration, faced with a steadily steepening air war in Viet Nam, has ordered 280 additional warplanes in fiscal 1968 at a cost of $700 million.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, announcing this Thursday, said most of the additional aircraft will go to the Navy which he said has had a higher loss rate per mission than originally expected.

The defense chief emphasized that thus far in the Viet Nam war the over-all aircraft loss rate is running "somewhat less than we estimated." But he also noted that sorties have exceeded original estimates by 5 to 10 per cent.

"Many Factors"
Pentagon figures show 505 U.S. planes have been downed in Viet Nam fighting to date, with 383 losses in North Viet Nam and 122 in the South.

In a statement, McNamara said the boost — estimated to be production — "was based on many factors, including projections on number and types of sorties and predicted loss rates."

But another Defense source put it this way:

"We're going to lose more Navy planes than we thought." Navy planes, it was explained, are now flying attack missions in increased numbers over strategic targets in North Viet Nam. These are described by officials as higher loss-rate objectives.

McNamara told a news conference the planned production of warplanes in both fiscal 1967 and fiscal 1968, the year that begins next July 1, had been 800 to 1,000.

Several Bosses Of Cosa Nostra Caught in Raid

Judge Holds 13 Men on Bonds of $100,000 Each

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice today held 13 Cosa Nostra bosses in a total of $1.3-million bail after their arrest Thursday in what was described as the biggest raid involving crime syndicate figures since the 1957 Apalachin conference.

Bail was set at $100,000 each for the 13, all listed as prominent members of the Cosa Nostra's national crime network by underworld informer Joseph Valachi.

Justice Joseph-M. Conroy said the men were being held as material witnesses in the investigation of "major crimes" in Queens County. The group was remanded to civil jail when they were unable to post bond.

Chief Inspector Sanford Garelik, who directed the roundup Thursday, called it the most important since the gangland conference at Apalachin, N.Y., in 1957 was broken up by state police. Sixty top hoodlums and their friends were arrested then.

Raid During Dinner
The raid Thursday came as the group was eating in a basement dining room at La Stella restaurant in Forest Hills, Queens. The community, about 20 minutes from Manhattan by car, is known for its comfortable apartment houses and tennis stadium, home of the national singles championships.

Among those charged with "consorting with known criminals" were: Thomas (Tommy) Ryan) Eboli, once barred as a fight manager after punching a referee, and now top man in the family of imprisoned Brooklyn leader Vito Genovese, considered the syndicate's "boss of bosses."

Michael Miranda, a guest at the Apalachin meeting, and underboss of a New York Cosa Nostra family.

Carlos Marcello of New Orleans, described in Senate testimony as the Mafia's Southern chieftain and a one-time part of Frank Costello.

Santo Trafficante, a Cosa Nostra bigshot in Florida and former head of rackets in pre-Castro Cuba.

Others arrested were Don Alongi, Aniello Della Croce of California, Frank Gagliano of New Orleans, Anthony Corallo of Louisiana and California, Joseph Marcello of Texas, brother of Carlos, and Joseph Gallo of New Orleans. He is not connected with the Gallo brothers of Brooklyn.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is the listener as Dean Rusk, U.S. secretary of state, engages him in conversation at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City Thursday night. The statesmen sat down for dinner and a wide-ranging talk on Viet Nam. (AP Wirephoto)

Attack Netted Seven Cents

10 Minutes of Pain, Terror

BY MARTIN BAILEY
Of The Miami Herald

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The street was empty. Nothing moved as I stood near the street light surrounded by deep shadows.

Then, from the south, came two men on the sidewalk. They were husky types wearing pullover shirts.

As they neared me they began walking slow, too slow. Instinctively I edged close to a telephone pole, trying to keep the pole between them and me.

I averted my eyes to avoid antagonizing the men. But I sensed each step they took as they closed in. Then a heavy forearm coiled around my "Get his feet. Lift him up," I heard them say.

They carried me away from the streetlight like a sack of potatoes into the darkness beside an abandoned house and then put me on my feet again, still gripping me tightly.

"Take off his watch." Fumbling hands. Hurried breathing. "He ain't got no watch."

The dark figure suddenly struck me in the face again and then again. I could feel blood pouring as fingers probed my pockets, fingers that made my skin crawl as they found change. All I had was 32 cents. They also took my cartooning pen and tried to wrench off my wedding ring. I struggled, making a fist of my left hand.

Then I suddenly found my voice. It welled up from deep in my belly. I never knew I could make a noise like that. It must have rattled windows for a block.

Darkness and Pain
The fists came back. Again and again they hit me as I fell.

Lying there, I watched four sets of feet flashing away. They were soft shoes and sneakers.

Then there was only darkness, silence and pain. I don't know how long I lay there. But I finally turned my head and the street began to grow bright. It was a bus. I fell four times struggling to my feet as I lurched out, streaming blood, and flagged the bus.

It wasn't my bus, but it stopped and the driver got out. The passengers clustered around me, patting me on the shoulder, saying they were sorry. The driver called the police.

The police didn't come and the driver finally said he had to leave. A Cuban man and his wife volunteered to stay with me although I told them the men might come back.

Doing His Duty
I thanked the man and told him he was a good man but he said he was only doing his duty and wouldn't even tell me his name.

The police finally came in two cruisers. They had gotten the wrong address.

One of the cars took the man and his wife home. The other radioed for an ambulance.

The X rays showed my left cheekbone is split, from the eye socket down. I will have surgery Monday.

I've been in the hospital for more than a week but I don't hate those men. I feel sorry for them. After the attack, I found a quarter still in my pocket.

All they got was seven cents.

Humphrey Urges Steelworkers to Avoid Inflationary Demands

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, urging steelworkers to avoid inflationary wage demands, said today America has "no written guarantee of a golden, never-ending prosperity."

"And that," added Humphrey, "is why we've got to exert discipline — all of us — in keeping on a steady course."

Humphrey's remarks were in a speech for the convention of

Powell Claims Victory After Conflict; So Do Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP) — They changed the rules on Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, but whether they're going to change Powell remains to be seen.

Both Powell and his foes claimed victory.

Facing cheering hundreds from his Harlem district, Powell flashed the smile of a winner Thursday as he announced the House Education and Labor Committee had put through a string of reforms by a 27-1 vote.

"In substance," the New York Democrat said, "we have reaffirmed the rules of the House, by which we have always been bound. I consider this a very progressive step forward."

That was also the theme of the leaders of the revolt against him.

Proposed Changes
Rep. Sam M. Gibbons, D-Fla., who started the whole thing a week ago by proposing rules changes, said the committee had withdrawn "virtually all the chairman's delegated powers."

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who presented the rules changes at Thursday's meeting, called them "very significant."

One major change would authorize the chairman of a subcommittee which handles a bill to call it up for action if the chairman refuses to do so. Powell has been accused of pocketing committee-approved bills he doesn't like.

The committee majority also was given a veto over Powell's appointments of committee employees and his use of committee funds. The original proposal would have given these powers to a majority of the committee's 21 Democrats, but the revised version said Powell has authority to make staff changes "in consultation and with the approval of the majority."

The question is, will the majority exercise these powers?

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., for one, doubts it. "These changes could be meaningful if the Democrats want to make them so," he said. "But I'm afraid what's going to happen is that Adam will do just what he's been doing."

Other Republican members were harsher in their judgment of what had happened.

Rep. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., said the revolt amounted to "a wet noodle slap" at Powell. Rep. John N. Erlenborn, R-Ill., said, "What was supposed to be the battle of the year turned out to be cream puffs at 20 paces."

Negro leaders also were critical of the committee's action.

Lucey Says Johnson Plans Stop in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey says President Johnson has assured him Wisconsin and Lucey's gubernatorial bid will be included in the President's campaign tours if at all possible.

Lucey visited the White House Thursday, and said he departed with the President's campaign encouragement as well as one of the pens handed out by Johnson after signing a Columbus Day proclamation.

The Democratic nominee for governor said he also invited Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to Wisconsin.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who was in Milwaukee and Kenosha last week-end, is to tour the state Oct. 9, and Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., is to arrive Oct. 26.

Gun Control Bill Favored

Several Major Items About Set for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mid-October target for adjournment of Congress looked more reachable today as major legislation moved toward floor action after a flurry of committee decisions.

Billings ranging from inflation control to gun control, from packaging to poverty, all won committee approval Thursday on what President Johnson's congressional liaison man called the busiest day of the session.

The contact man, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, said he told Johnson the day of action was "a major breakthrough" for administration programs. O'Brien wouldn't hazard a guess on adjournment but observed:

"We can see daylight. That didn't exist a day or two ago."

Major items progressed in these areas:

Anti-inflation: Slightly less stringent version of the President's program for suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit and rapid depreciation formulas passed the House Ways and Means Committee. Democratic leaders said it would face the full House Wednesday or Thursday.

Gun control: Restrictions on mail-order sales of handguns — but not rifles or shotguns — won Senate Judiciary Committee approval.

Packaging: Voluntary rather than government-set standards for weights and quantities of packaged consumer goods unanimously passed the House Commerce Committee. Other provisions aim at truth in packaging.

Teachers Corps: $7.5 million to keep the Teacher Corps in business was included by the Senate Appropriations Committee in a $10.47-billion appropriation for the Labor and Welfare departments. The bill now stands $390 million over Johnson's budget but the Teacher Corps got $23.9 million less than he wanted.

National 4-H Week

During the coming week about 24 million alumni are going to look back and recall some of the happy times they enjoyed as a youngster in a 4-H program.

At the same time their modern day counterparts, about two and a quarter million strong, will be observing National 4-H Week. In Wisconsin the week will take on more meaning because it will mark a new era.

The 4-H program, which in the past has been chiefly aimed at the rural populace, is gaining an increasingly urban character. Also, in 1966 the merger of the Cooperative Extension Service and General Extension staffs at the University of Wisconsin was effected.

It will assure a broader spectrum for the 4-H program which while still serving its rural followers can now more adequately serve the growing numbers in and around the cities.

But no program is complete without strong leadership. The Fox River Valley region has been most fortunate in this category and the way the club programs flourish is evidence of it. A strong army of unsung volunteer leaders and secretaries back up the efforts of each county 4-H club agent.

Certainly the fact that one leader has spent almost 40 years engineering the program of one club is a mighty tribute both to the individual and the program she supports.

Although 4-H activity is mainly limited to boys and girls from 9-19, it does not stop there. Older youths can become junior leaders and later adult leaders. A select few may be eligible for the International Farm Youth Exchange program started in 1948 for 4-H alumni from 21-30.

The Peace Corps was patterned after the IFYE program and their mutual successes run parallel.

National 4-H Week also sparks the beginning of the annual membership drive. We wish it continued success and pause with many others in saluting the agents, leaders, members and parents during their week.

Rundown Buildings Lead to Blight

With more frequency some Appleton aldermen are becoming conscious of the importance of having local and absentee owners of old, dilapidated buildings repair them to meet municipal codes, or face condemnation and razing of unsafe and unsightly structures.

The rundown building — whether it be in a residential neighborhood, commercial district or an industrial complex — is the breeding place for blight and the serious physical and sociological problems that accompany it.

Needless to say, there are many old buildings in Appleton that have been kept in excellent shape by their owners, and they are to be highly commended. But a tour of the city will also point out isolated areas in which structures are rundown and should be razed for the good of the neighborhood and community in general.

While some aldermen have been calling attention of the Common Council to the poor condition of a few buildings in their respective wards, the Department of Inspection has followed through with inspections which have resulted in condemnation recommendations and actions being instituted by the city attorney's office.

But there seems to be a feeling, even among Common Council members themselves, that the city is not moving fast enough in the direction of tighter enforcement of the various building, health and sanitation codes. The claim is being made that inspectors tend to "bend over backwards too long" to get the property owner to fix a place up, rather than become involved in controversy. This has resulted in long delays in razing a structure which should have been torn down within 30 days after a complaint was made.

It is obvious that as Appleton continues to grow, some parts will be new while others continue to get older. And if the city is to guard against the dangers that lead to blight and slums, it may be necessary to beef up the Inspection Department. In the meantime, municipal officials should expedite condemnations whenever and wherever required.

Humphrey's Advice on Viet Nam

Vice President Hubert Humphrey, in a lengthy interview with The Christian Science Monitor, has advised Democratic congressional candidates this fall to run on the administration's record in Viet Nam because "this was not only the right thing to do but was the thing to do politically."

"If Democrats differ on Viet Nam, I will lose them votes. If they don't differ, I don't think it will gain them votes — but it will prevent their losing support on this issue," Mr. Humphrey explained.

While the vice president may be correct from the standpoint of the best national posture the Democratic Party can take into the congressional campaign, there are many signs that Democratic incumbents will find it difficult to accept the advice once they are back working in the home precincts. Perhaps the most frequent emerging strategy will be to try to not talk about Viet Nam at all.

As a foundation for his advice, Mr. Humphrey said in the interview that support of the President's Viet Nam policy is really in keeping with the "liberal" tradition of the Democratic Party. He acknowledges that he is being portrayed by many of his past liberal supporters as having abandoned the cause because of his support of the President on Viet Nam, which, of course, is a requirement of Mr. Humphrey's position as vice president.

But he says a mere taking of the "dove" side of the intra-party debate over Viet Nam as an expression of being a liberal is nothing but an over-simplification. In fact, he said the opposite is true. Mr. Humphrey says Viet Nam fits within the traditional objectives of the liberal on three points.

First, the liberal should be dedicated to the development of international organizations like the United Nations and to the participation of the United States in foreign aid and mutual security. Second, the liberal believes the wealth and power of the United States means the nation has a moral obligation to participate in collective security against communist aggression, as it did in organizing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. And third, liberals have supported strong national defense coupled with an objective of international arms control subject to inspections.

Many liberals, Humphrey believes, are going through the same growing pains other liberals did in the 1930s. He recalled that Wisconsin Progressives and the Farmer-Labor Party in Minnesota were isolationists in the early 1930s.

Chances are, Mr. Humphrey will not convince liberals or others who worry about the march of events in Viet Nam by his characterization of the war as a crusade from which the United States must not shirk. He has fallen victim to the same over-simplification of which he accuses his liberal former friends.

The over-riding question is not whether the United States, its liberal and conservative citizens alike, believe in collective security and opposition to communist aggression. The question is whether the nation can afford to view Viet Nam as an isolated spot on the map and whether continued escalation of the war brings only the risk of weakening the nation in its agreed-upon assignment of standing firm against communism at more strategic places.

Two Conventions—One Delegate

Quoted from the Appleton Post for Sept. 20, 1966.

The Democratic convention and the Doolittle-Randall convention met in town Wednesday, 19th inst.—the former in Adkins' Hall, the latter in Fireman's Hall.

After organizing, each appointed the usual committees, and also a committee on conference. Each then adjourned until the afternoon to talk matters over.

On re-assembling, the committee on conference reported in the Democratic convention that R. Z. Mason was not a candidate; whereupon it proceeded to ballot for a nominee for Congress. The result was a majority for Morgan L. Martin of Green Bay — who was thereupon declared the nominee.

Mr. Martin now made an address to the Democrats, the burden of which was that Mr. Johnson was carrying out exactly Mr. Lincoln's policy, a declaration that must have been especially pleasing to a body of men, most of whom were peace-at-any-price Democrats all along, who for four long years were reviling Mr. Lincoln as the widow-maker, the tyrant, the hateful despot, and anything and everything that expresses rage, contempt and hatred. For among the Democrats were men who had barely escaped the wrath of their neighbors during the days of Bull Run and Sumter for their noisy disloyalty.

In short, that body of men had been the heartiest of Lincoln haters.

Seriously, we congratulate our friend Mason on the escape he has had. No greater unkindness could have been done him than to make him the nominee.

Before We Get Too Smug Over Our Culture, Look at Michelangelo

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

New York's prodigious new Metropolitan Opera House is a dazzling monument to our advancing century's art — bold, imaginative, convincing and beautiful. But it makes you wonder...

In our vaunted progress, with the great mechanical aids we have and the wonderful combinations of materials developed, has the century's entire world created the excellence of the art created by just one, single earlier man within his own lifetime?

Taylor

A little more humility is perhaps a tonic we need today. Tiny Michelangelo Buonarroti, five feet two inches tall, died on the threshold of his 90th year, 402 years ago.

He was only 17 when he carved the mass-struggle relief, the Battle of the Centaurs, and 23 when he began his matchless Pieta.

His preliminary drawings were vivid, with rapid lines, often exaggerated and with deliberate distortions. But even in these sketches the faces showed the things from the depths that the great Florentine forced to the surface.

PORTRAY MANKIND

His Sistine Chapel ceiling figures, in the profusion of 343, portray mankind in its breathless beauty, its weaknesses, its indestructible strengths. And these probably come closest to his stated ideal: "The closer you see painting approach good sculpture the better it will be."

In both mediums the emphasis in his amazing combinations of figures is the weight masses, and on men. "I have no interest in the female form," he said. Michelangelo always subordinated it.

See the long stride of Auguste Rodin's great John the Baptist moving with a proud passion to meet Jesus face to face and you see Michelangelo deliberately copied. The innovating master taught Rodin to avoid both the sharp ridge of the Romans and the smoothly modeled plane of the Greeks.

Michelangelo returned to the Sistine room in his late fifties and began the Last Judgment. Imagination's creative force was the substitute for all of today's unprecedented help in materials and mechanics.

Probably the most formidable expression of terror ever caught by man is there — the man condemned to death, the face of a gargoyle and the strength of a bull, his dark glance full of will lights up — and yet you see only half the face.

In 400 years it has no rival, except perhaps in Leonardo's contemporary Last Supper — the terrible moment in which Jesus says, "One of you will betray me," and Judas upsets the salt, still commemorated by the superstition.

Yet Michelangelo's motto to ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The information and records desk at city police headquarters sometimes serves the public in unexpected ways.

A couple from Illinois stepped up to the desk recently and the woman asked, "Where can we play bingo?"

The woman explained, "We just don't like night clubbing. We just want to play bingo."

After a phone call or two, the officers on duty found the name of a church which was holding a bingo game that very night.

MIAMI (AP) — The U.S. Indian Bureau gradually is persuading the Seminoles living in the Florida Everglades to move from their thatched huts into more modern housing.

Some Seminoles have bought sets while they continue to cook outside over an open fire.

Lamb's Victory Over Zaborski Difficult To Explain Reasonably

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The nomination for state treasurer on the Democratic ticket of an obscure Milwaukee factory hand who scarcely uttered a sound during the campaign illustrates again the curiosities of electoral behavior and especially in relation to the lesser offices.

Wyngaard

Eugene Lamb has made a career out of his biennial filing for the place. Once he was successful, and he served an undistinguished term in an office where the work is mostly conspicuous by its absence. This year he was clearly not wanted on the ticket by the party leadership, representing all factions. Sen. Richard Zaborski, who was regarded as the better candidate, was the personal choice of Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, now the leader of the ticket, among others. Zaborski was one of the leaders of the Lucey organization and had a considerable exposure as a consequence. In the legislature as an eager debater and with identification as the Senate Democratic leader, he has had more publicity and attention than any of his party colleagues. He stumped the state, campaigned on the issues as his party saw them. But it was all in vain. Lamb managed to defeat him by merely filing his name for the ballot.

WHAT GOES ON?

Was there shown here an oblique ethnic preference by the liberal voters? Perhaps. Men of Polish descent and recognizably Polish names have not run well in state-wide elections.

But that doesn't seem sufficient to explain Zaborski's loss. A couple of years ago party men put up a respectable assemblyman of long service and broad acquaintance, Palmer Daugs of Jefferson County, and Lamb defeated him with even greater ease.

Was there some resentment against the style of Zaborski's campaign and the tone of some of his speeches? Possibly. In the classical style of campaign strategy, there were put in his mouth some spectacular charges that the higher office candidates did not care to utter, including those some critics felt were unjustified aspersions of Mrs. Dena Smith, the longtime treasury incumbent.

It seems more probable that the explanation lies in a problem that has worried professional political scientists for a long time. This is the fact that the ballot is long and that many voters are uninformed and indifferent about the lesser offices to be filled and are correspondingly impulsive and casual in their examination of the candidates filed for them.

ABANDON IT?

There is no real reason that even the most confirmed believer in broadest possible popular control of government can assert for the continuation of the state treasurer's office on the election ballot. Its functions and powers have been pruned so radically that it is one of the tiniest divisions remaining in the capitol. The duties of the incumbent are so minor that the treasurer can be absent without attracting the notice of anyone except a calculating rival.

As the office, and others remaining on the ballot in Wisconsin, have declined in importance and prestige parties have had increasing difficulties in recruiting able men and women for them. The phenomenon is more visible in some of the courthouse situations of Wisconsin. Half at least of the elective county election ballot places could be eliminated without the slightest affront to the democratic idea and, in many cases, with improved performance.

Why does the local ballot persist? It is a matter of the practical and mechanical necessities of politics and the competition of the parties. The impact of a party campaign is stronger when there are more campaigning troops. These aspirants for the lesser offices although they represent no philosophy and often have less capacity than the civil servants flanking them, fortify the partisan causes with which they are associated. The election of the clerk of court, or the register of deeds, or even the county clerk is unnecessary. But any change must be made by the legislature, where the politicians of both parties are aware of the practical considerations even as they pretend concern about the popular government principle.

Strictly Personal

Deep Paradoxes Lie At Core of All Life

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A reader in Toledo complains that I am "too fond of paradox." The dictionary defines paradox as "an assertion that seems contradictory, or opposed to common sense, but that yet may be true in fact."

At the very core of human existence, we find a huge paradox. Life is filled with catastrophic accidents and tragic endings; and, at the same time, life is filled with delightful experiences and comic situations.

Harris

Which view of life is "true"? It seems plain to me that each, taken alone, is false — a tragic sense of life makes a man ungrateful, and a comic sense of life makes a man superficial.

There is another deep paradox at the very core of human existence. All men are equal, and yet all men are unequal. Mankind is one, as the idea and creation of God, and must be equally treated as His children. But men are vastly unequal in their natural gifts and abilities, and so their reward must be unequal, in proportion to their merits.

Unless we know that all men are equal, we shall treat some like beasts; and unless we know that all men are unequal, we shall impose a false uniformity that levels the greater down to the lesser.

There is yet a third profound paradox at the very core of political existence. All government represents a tension between freedom and order.

On the one hand, citizens must have liberty; on the other, they must obey the rules set down for the common welfare.

Those who view politics as an instrument only for liberty are really anarchists, of the right or of the left; while those who view politics as only an instrument for order are totalitarians, of the right or of the left.

And the fourth essential paradox, which is at the very core of our moral existence, is the one between tolerance and righteousness. We must judge not, that we be not judged; and yet we must take a stand for what we believe to be right.

If we obey only the first part of the paradox, and refuse to judge, then we commit the sin of indifference, of declining to act as our brother's keeper; if, on the contrary, we take a stand for righteousness, and judge others without charity, then we commit the sin of fanaticism and smugness.

Balance it all. A simple view of life is necessarily a wrong view. And paradox — not for its own sake but for the sake of truth — is the only fair and accurate way of describing the human condition.

Film on Ireland Opens Kiwanis Club Series

Trip by Horse-Drawn Gypsy Caravan Showing Sunday Night at Appleton High

The Northside Appleton Kiwanis Club opens its new season of travel and adventure movies Sunday night with the color feature "Ireland from a Gypsy Caravan."

This year's benefit shows number six and each will be shown at 7:30 p.m. one Sunday a month in the Appleton High School Auditorium. Proceeds from the series are used for various civic and charitable projects sponsored throughout the year by the club. Tickets for the series may be purchased from club members or at the box office Sunday night.

The travel series includes a wide range of subjects, starting with a visit to Ireland and ending with a movie on Mexico. The subjects of the full-length feature films in color and their dates of showing are as follows:

Next Sunday's movie on Ireland by author-lecturer-photographer John Weld; "Germany and the Berlin Story" by Dr. Gerald Hooper, Oct. 30; "Greek Panorama" by Joe Adair, Nov. 27; "Zoos Without Bars" by Sasha Ziemel, Jan. 15; "Grand Canyon Adventure" by Julian Gromer, Feb. 26; "The Soul of Mexico" by Romain Wilhelmson, April 23.

Weld, currently co-publisher of the Laguna Beach Post in California, has been traveling since he was a youngster. He has worked his way as a bellboy on a passenger ship and then he has become, in successive order, a traveling salesman, a movie stunt man, a newspaper reporter in New York, foreign correspondent in Europe, director of public relations for the Ford Motor Co., a novelist, a script writer, and lastly a newspaper publisher. In between times he was a free lance writer for various national magazines.

'Laredo' Has Colorful Adventure

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — Laredo's "Dance of the Laughing Death" is a colorful hard-riding adventure for its Texas rangers. If you can forgive a splattering of shoot-'em-up cliches you will probably enjoy this tale of misguided Indians on the warpath. Particularly effective is Abraham Sofaer as Chief Toh-pay, a less than gallant old brave who gets his kicks by sacrificing ornery white men to the red man's gods. Diane Roter flutters about, too, as a pig-tailed princess, and Myron Healy grimly plays an ex-soldier who teaches the Indians everything he knows.

6:30-7 (Channels 11-6-9) — Near the end of The Green Hornet there is speculation that the masked bandit-hero may be soon helping old ladies across the street. He has used his green gas to knock out some nasty villains who have been selling phony diamonds and encouraging tigers to gobble up nosey reporters.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — The Wild, Wild West employs Boris Karloff as one of its more sinister villains. He plays an aged maharajah whose diamonds are his best friends in an exotic script laced with far-fetched humor and macabre melodrama. Our hero, Robert Conrad, soon becomes Karloff's prisoner. Conveniently, Karloff has a daughter (Audrey Dalton) who also claims Conrad as a prisoner. Needless to say, she isn't nearly so cruel as her demented daddy.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 4-5) — "Leopard on the Loose" once again involves a band of cutthroats who clutter Tarzan's jungle. In this stilted melodrama, Ken Scott and Morgan Jones are determined to steal the spotted pet of Manuel Padilla Jr. The leopard will bring a big price at a zoo. Somehow, Russ Tamblyn (Manuel's pal) is also tempted by greed and helps the thieves.

7-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Time Tunnel explores the wonders and headaches of 1910 when Haley's Comet brightened the skies. Of course, our wandering scientists (James Darren and Robert Colbert) don't have much of an opportunity to be dazzled by such a phenomenon. They are trapped with 100 miners in a cave-in, as the original "dig we must" chaps.

7:30-8:30 (Channels 4-5) — "The Sort of Do-It-Yourself Dreadful Affair" is a bit more than routine for The Man From U.N.C.L.E. THURSH has obviously run out of villains and is now employing female robots to take over the world. Creator of the A-77 monsters is Woodrow Parfrey and around to let the U.N.C.L.E. boys in on the computers game is Jeannine Riley. There's some fun here as Solo poses as a Swiss banker using a militant businessman accent.

8-9 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Milton Berle Show tries to dazzle you with a slambang spoof on "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Martha and George are none other than the unsuspecting guests are Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows. Musical interludes are provided by Lloyd Thaxton and Sam the

Course for Supervisors To be Offered by UW-FVC

First-line foremen and supervisors have been invited to register for a course in "Developing Supervisory Skills" to be taught three Wednesdays in October at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

Day-long class sessions of the University Extension Commerce department program will be held Oct. 12, 19, and 26. The $80 fee for the course will cover materials, coffee breaks and luncheons, as well as a graduation banquet for class members and their superiors.

Among skills to be covered by the course are giving orders, training employees, appraising employee performance, preventing and handling grievances, initiating change and making decisions.

Discussion leaders for the course will be John D. L. Droege, coordinator of Extension Commerce programs at the UW Green Bay Center; Paul Wright, training supervisor for the State of Wisconsin; Phillip G. Brockish, Kimberly-Clark management development consultant; and Edward M. Pickert, coordinator of University Extension Business Administration programs at Eau Claire.

Further information about the course may be obtained by contacting the university extension office at Fox Valley Center.

Fidel's Sister Has Figures Hitting Regime

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Here are Juanita Castro's statistics on Cuban disapproval of her brother Fidel's regime:

"In exile, 490,000, or 7 per cent of the seven million Cubans; negotiating for departure, 99,000; desirous of escaping, three million; political prisoners, 140,000; executed or otherwise killed, 14,000."

The figures of the Cuban prime minister's self-exiled sister were published by the exile news service, AIP.

Sham and the Pharaohs. The latter sing "Li'l Red Riding Hood."

8:30-9 (Channels 4-5) — T.H.E. Cat has another scratchy assignment with "The Sandman." Once again Robert Loggia has "clients who are about to be murdered" and who refuse his help. Lee Bergere and Signe Hasso play an interesting couple up against the morbid dealings of Dennis Patrick, a racketeer with a big emerald on his hands. There's some interesting Cat and mouse play with Miss Hasso, who sings her blues in a nightclub.

Bill Veeck won't wear a tie even for his opening show

No occasion is special enough to put a tie on Veeck (as in wreck).

For Bill's a nonconformist, the P. T. Barnum of the Sports World.

That's the way his new show is, too. Take his first one, for example ... How about an explosive subject like "Baseball's Little League?" Add a fan like comedian Phil Foster, a critic like Frances Horwich of "Ding-Dong School," a commissioner of Little League Baseball, Bob Wallace and it spells fireworks.

Fun, too. Tune it in. Brought to you by the Yellow Pages!

New Recordings May Bring Appleton Fame

BY CHUCK POSNIAK

Appleton opened competition with Memphis, Tenn. this week. The competition is neither sports event nor political rally. It is a recording company. Memphis is known as the "recording capitol of the world," and has at least a dozen recording studios within its city limits.

Appleton opened competition when the town's new recording studio released its first record Monday.

The record, which it is hoped will put Appleton on the maps of the record industry, was made by Appleton's own Faros and is on the Target label.

Daily and Guitar

Side one, written and sung by Gary Daily, is called "I'm Calling You Back." It is backed with "I'm Crying," a song originally recorded by the Animals.

"I'm Calling You Back" is dominated with the sound of Gary Daily's 12-string guitar and Dan Meredith's heavy drum beat. Chris Wyman and Steve Berg supply a strong vocal background.

Dominating the sound of "I'm Crying" is a wild six-string guitar, played by Gary, and a saxophone, played by Tom Gebheim, one of the studio's own musicians.

Hard Choice

The decision to promote "I'm Calling You Back" as the A side was a tough decision. According to Gary Laabs, one of the arrangers, there were mixed reactions in a sneak preview of the record.

The musicians all seemed to like "I'm Crying," and the radio D.J.'s and record buying public seemed to prefer the original sound of "I'm Calling You Back."

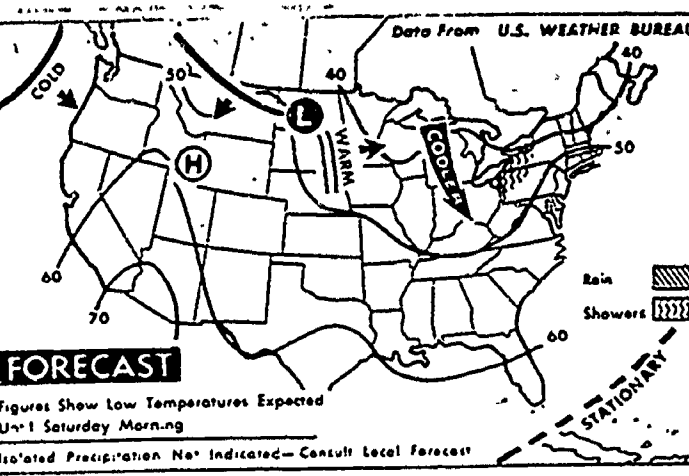

The second record to be marketed by the Target label

Dinner Party To Start 11th Skiing Season

NEW LONDON — Mo-Ski-Tow Hill, Inc. will open its 11th season at 7 p.m. Oct. 1 with the annual pre-season dinner party at the Rainbow Supper Club.

Season tickets will be offered at a reduced rate until Oct. 1. Season memberships are available for families, adults, 18-year-olds and junior members.

A second tow is being installed on the main hill at View Ridge. The beginners' area has been enlarged by extending it 100 feet up the east side of the hill.

Bear Creek Firm Reports Break-in

BEAR CREEK — The Waupaca County Sheriff's office is investigating a break-in discovered this morning at the Quality Oil Co., at the intersection of U. S. 45 and State 76.

Authorities said entry was gained to the oil company office by breaking a glass in the rear door. A cash register and a desk were ransacked, but nothing appeared to be missing, authorities said.

Extension Plans Series For Nurses

A five-part lecture series in contemporary nursing trends will be held during October and November at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

Sponsored by the extension nursing department, the course is designed to make nurses aware of developments in nursing specialties. The class will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursdays from Oct. 13 through Nov. 10.

At the first session the discussion will be "Intrauterine Transfusion — the Nurse's Role." On Oct. 20 the discussion will be on "Nursing Related to Hyperbaric Oxygen Treatment."

Two St. Mary Hospital of Milwaukee staff nurses will discuss "Patient Care in a Burn Center." Oct. 27. The Nov. 3 lecture is on "Nursing Care of the Patient with Open Heart Surgery." "The Nurse and Phenylketonuria" will be the topic Nov. 10.

Fee for the series is $6. More information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Janet Nusinoff, coordinator of Extension nursing programs at Fox Valley Center.

Rep. John W. Byrnes To Meet With YGOP In Appleton Saturday

Outagamie County Young Republicans will meet at 2:45 p.m. Saturday with John W. Byrnes, Republican representative from the Eighth District. Byrnes is seeking re-election to a 12th term in Congress.

The meeting will be held at the home of Dr. Gilbert Mueller, 509 E. Greenfield Ave. The Appleton stop is one of three visits to three counties which Byrnes will make Saturday.

Parking Ramp Plans Approved By Commission

$725,000 Structure On Soldiers Square Will Hold 450 Cars

State Industrial Commission approval of the Soldiers Square parking ramp construction plans has been received by the Detroit firm which designed the multi-level structure.

Excavation work was started at the site earlier in the week as Standard Construction Corp., Minneapolis, prepared to launch the major downtown construction project.

When completed by April 1 next year, the ramp will hold 450 cars. It will have an express ramp exit in addition to other exits and entrances.

$725,000 Total

The construction cost will be about $725,000. It has been estimated the land cost, after litigation, will be about $200,000.

A spokesman for Standard Construction said today that work was proceeding and stepped up activity could be expected as soon as excavation is completed.

In another development concerning the ramp, the common council Wednesday night requested City Planner Walter Rasmussen to submit a written report on the merits of having parking meters in the structure and keeping it open 24 hours a day versus attendant-type parking.

The parking commission has indicated the decision to meter the ramp was made more than a year ago after a thorough study.

As a result, the structure is not designed for attendant-type parking.

Public Hearing Set on Sherwood Phone Request

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Higher telephone rates because of dial operation may be in prospect for customers of the Tisch Mills exchange of the Stockbridge and Sherwood Telephone Co. in Kewaunee and Manitowoc counties.

The state Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing at the county courthouse in Manitowoc on Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Oct. 4 at 1:30 p.m. to consider service rates. The commission also is studying the request of member banks and by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for permission to install the dial equipment with insured state banks which are not holding a public hearing.

Seek PSC Okay For Waterway in Waupaca County

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The proposed enlargement of a waterway off the Wolf River in the Town of Matteson in Waupaca County is being considered by the Public Service Commission.

Donald A. W. Dix, Kaukauna, has applied to the state agency for permission to enlarge the waterway for boat channel, wildlife and recreation purposes.

Unless written objections are received by the commission within 30 days, the requested authority may be granted without holding a public hearing.

Convicted Councilman Quits Fond du Lac Post Without Any Comment

FOND DU LAC (AP) — Councilman George F. Rottman Jr., who was found recently to have violated a state law in accepting commission of more than $1,000 on the sale of property to the city, resigned today from the Common Council.

City Manager Henry B. Buslee said Rottman submitted his resignation without comment. The council discussed the matter informally and will take it up again tonight at a regular business session.

County Judge Hazen W. McCarty fined Rottman $100 and costs after finding him in violation of a statute which limits a city council member to $1,000 in business transactions with the municipality. The court found that Rottman, a realtor, had received commission amounting to $4,222.75 from the sale of farm land to the city.

Rottman entered no plea to the charge.

When South led the other low West discarded his single diamond. Declarer ruffed club in dummy and led a ruff to the ace, whereupon it defeated the slam by ruff.

South wants to make his hand should begin with the red suit rather than the ruff. The danger of a single heart is much smaller than danger of a singleton diamond.

After ruffing the first low club dummy South should get to hand with the ace of diamonds. He ruffs the other low club, and now West cannot do damage.

Children's Vision Testing Dates Set by Junior Woman's Club

Children don't know when they can't see properly. In the Vision Screening conducted in the spring by the Appleton Junior Woman's Club 811 children were tested for amblyopia specifically and other obvious difficulties. Of this number, 11 needed a complete professional eye examination and were referred to the ophthalmologist or optometrist of their choice, or to the City Health Dept., where financial assistance was arranged for those who needed it.

Letters were sent to the parents of 40 other children, advising them that their youngster had minimal visual acuity for his age level and suggesting the parent watch for signs of eye trouble and have the child screened again, as eyes do change.

The screening may have saved a child from serious eye and vision difficulties in years to come. Because of the importance of detecting vision difficulties early, the Junior Woman's Club will repeat its free vision screening clinic again this fall.

To be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 8 and Oct. 15, the screening is open to all Appleton children who are three, four, five or six years old. The clinic will be set up at the Appleton YMCA Nursery.

Testing teams will visit nursery schools in the city to screen classes during their school day. They will be at the Y Nursery at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Oct. 3 and 4 and at the Appleton Cooperative Nursery at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Oct. 5 and at 9 a.m. Oct. 6.

More Training
Additional tests will be added to the fall screening. Training was given members of the Junior Woman's Club by the Wisconsin Society for the Prevention of Blindness. New training is scheduled Oct. 1, with Dr. Jeffrey L. Warren and Dr. Donald Garelick having charge of the 1 to 5 p.m. session at the Y. Club members will be further assisted this fall by the Appleton Woman's Club.

Three-year-olds will receive a simple visual acuity test. Those four, five and six will be screened with the Snellen E acuity chart with a plus lens check for six-year-olds. Any child who fails the test will receive a recommendation for a follow-up professional examination.

Mrs. Robert Vondracek, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hooyman, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pawlak, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Alois Van Dyn Haven and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hovind.

The "Visit for Vision" is under the direction and supervision of the Outagamie County Medical Society, the Fox Cities Optometric Society, the Wisconsin Society for the Prevention of Blindness, and with the cooperation of the City of Appleton Health Dept.

The advisory committee is composed of Dr. Robert DeCock, Dr. Jeffrey Warren, Dr. Edward Zeiss, Dr. William Gibson, Dr. James Mohr, Dr. Robert F. Scherzinger, Dr. Lloyd Williams, Dr. James W. Laird, Donald Day, Mrs. Charles Lansing, Mrs. Harry Jollie, Miss Lucille Lang and Miss Virginia Betley. Members of the Junior Woman's Club coordinating committee are Mrs. Donald Garelick, chairman, Mrs. James Walkowiak, Mrs. Daniel Dorchester, and Mrs. James Zwack, consultant.

Thursday Reading Club Tells Season's Program

"Good books shared are more precious than rubies" is the theme to be carried out by the Thursday Reading Club, which meets at 2 p.m. every fourth Thursday of the month.

Officers and program committees for the year have been announced. Heading the group this year are Mrs. F. A. Brei, president, and Mrs. Forrest Muck, secretary-treasurer. Chairman of the planning and book committee is Mrs. Ralph Schutz. Mrs. Paul Gelbke will have charge of the opening luncheon; Mrs. Frank Taylor, the Christmas party, and Mrs. E. R. Hollander, guest day.

Teatime Setting
The group will meet Sept. 22 at Larners Tea Room with Mrs. Esther Mokros as the reader for "Mai Pen Rai", by Carol Hollinger.

Mrs. J. O. Kopplin will be the hostess at the Oct. 27 meeting. The reader of "China", by Harry Schwartz, will be Mrs. Harold Woehler.

Hostess at the Nov. 17 program will be Mrs. E. R. Hollander; reader, Mrs. Wm. Ellmaker of "The Great Auk", by A. W. Ekert.

To Discuss Europe
The Dec. 15 meeting hostess will be Mrs. Brei. Mrs. R. J. Schlein will present a travelogue of Europe.

Serving as hostess for the Hobbs.

First Lady at Opera Openings on Both Coasts

Ballet Dancer Christine Hughes wore pantaloons when she was married Monday to dancer Dudley Von Loggenburg in London. Both are with the London Festival Ballet Company. She is from Blackpool, England, and he from Salisbury, Rhodesia. Below, looking at the Bible in which her birth was recorded in 1864, is Mrs. Nettie Reid, the oldest resident of Perry, Iowa.

The "go-go" first family was in the news this week, as they made the scene in a variety of activities. Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, with the wife of Philippine president Mrs. Ferdinand E. Marcos as her guest, attended the opening of the Metropolitan Opera at Lincoln Center in New York Sept. 16. Tuesday she was off to California, flying on a special plane that presented fashions for members of the presidential party. Models were hand-picked and practiced changing their clothes in a narrow galley.

In San Francisco Mrs. Johnson attended another opera, arriving at the carriage entrance and missing pickets who demonstrated against the Viet Nam war in front of the Opera House.

Mrs. Johnson was escorted by Gov. and Mrs. Edmund G. Brown of California and Mrs. Robert Miller, wife of the San Francisco Opera president.

Football Game
In Texas Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nugent spent Saturday afternoon watching the University of Texas play Southern California in a football game at Austin. Pat, son-in-law of the president, is a student, working toward a master's degree, and Luci is taking several courses. Lynda Bird Johnson, in the Fox Cities-Labor Day weekend, was in Hawaii on vacation.

Opera was the event of the week, with social entities and government officials attending the first night at the Met's new home. Among those at Lincoln Center were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Robert McNamara, former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain and Mrs. Lewis Douglas and their daughter, Shannon.

Born in 1864
In Perry, Iowa, this week, Nettie Reid marked her 102nd birthday anniversary. She was born Sept. 21, 1864 in Des Moines. Her late husband operated a jewelry store in Perry for many years.

In Los Angeles Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Glidden rejoiced over the birth of their child. Mrs. Glidden calls the infant a "miracle baby". It is only the second child born to a mother who has had a kidney transplant. Mrs. Glidden underwent the operation about 15 months ago, when both kidneys were removed and replaced by one donated by a younger brother. The couple lives in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Glidden, above, visit their baby at UCLA Medical Center in Los Angeles. Mrs. Glidden, 36, had both kidneys removed 15 months ago and replaced by one given by a younger brother. Doctors say only one other kidney transplant patient has ever given birth to a child. Her husband is a Marine officer. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson attended the opera in New York and San Francisco this week. Above, she is shown arriving at the Metropolitan's new home at Lincoln Center in New York. With her is Mrs. Ferdinand E. Marcos, wife of the president of the Philippines.

Homemakers Plan Discussion Series

Ways of owning property, sale of property and joint tenancy will be discussed at meetings scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 5 at the Chilton Courthouse, 8 p.m. Oct. 6 at the Chilton Court House and 1:30 p.m. Oct. 7 at the Brillion City Hall.

Bank Women Delegates to National Parley

Area women will be delegates to the 44th annual convention of the National Association of Bank Women Inc. Oct. 9 to 13. Attending will be Mrs. Leone E. Davis, assistant cashier and women's service officer of the First National Bank, Appleton, and Mrs. Beulah M. Robb, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Neenah. Also to be delegates at the convention are Mrs. Arline Sitter, assistant vice-president, and Miss Kathryn Weber, trust officer, of the First National Bank, Oshkosh.

More than 800 women officers of banks throughout the country are expected to attend the meeting at the New York Hilton Hotel. Prominent bankers and specialists in the field of management will speak on "The Art of Management," theme of the program. Tours of the New York Stock Exchange and the Wall Street area are planned.

From All States
The National Association of Bank Women has more than 5,200 members, located in all 50 states, Canada and several foreign countries. Two-thirds of all bank employees are women, represented in every facet of banking.

Membership in NABW is open to women who are officers of their banks and include a number of bank presidents, board chairmen and women in other management positions.

Set Pancake Day for Oct. 15

The Golden Age Club will sponsor its community Pancake Day Oct. 15. The event annually draws hundreds to St. Mary School cafeteria for pancakes, sausages, applesauce, coffee or milk. On the way in or out, families usually pause at the bazaar booths manned by Golden Agers or members of Welcome Wagon Newcomers or Civic League.

Pancake day is an all-day affair, with serving from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The Wisconsin Telephone Company executives will again have charge of the kitchen.

chairman of the event. Assisting fair, Mrs. Almo Phillips, and Mrs. W. B. Thompson and Mrs. Sam Bond as advisors.

Head Committees
Mrs. Richard Dratz and Ben Pfefferle have charge of publicity; Peter Nelson and Robert Kennedy, tickets; Walter Dobratz and John Donahue, kitchen and cooks; William Selle, house; Mr. Bond and Barton Hammond, procurement; Mrs. Arthur Malin, dining room; Mrs. John Koopman and Mrs. Robert Pollick, bake sale, and Mrs. Fred Kirch and Mrs. Ray Kibort, Christmas booth. The bazaar is in charge of Mrs. Willard Johnson is general chairman.

Laundry Cart Easy To Keep Clean
If your laundry "basket" is the cloth liner of a folding cart, remove it often to be machine-washed. Replace it while damp, and finish the job by sucking the metal frame.

Louis Marshall is observing his 95th birthday anniversary today. He and Mrs. Marshall, 84, were married 64 years Sept. 10. The couple was honored Wednesday at a dinner for family and friends at Butte des Morts Golf Club. Above, four generations celebrate Mr. Marshall's birthday. Seated are Mr.

and Mrs. Marshall and their great-grandson. Timothy Kenefick. Standing are their granddaughter, Mrs. Donald Kenefick, New York, and their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kovacs, Milwaukee. (Post-Crescent Photo)

First Teen Center Dance Saturday

Six Outagamie Burglaries Reported Today

Shiocton, Freedom, 12 Corners Firms Entered, Little Taken

Total loot was small in six overnight burglaries in the northern and eastern parts of Outagamie County.

Business places hit by burglars included the Standard Service Station, Johnson's Citgo Service Station and the Red Owl Store, all in Shiocton; Pennings Country Club at 12 Corners; Skunk Hill Tavern, and Bob Geurts' Service Station at Freedom.

All of the burglaries were reported to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department early this morning. The entire investigation staff was assigned to the cases.

Four rolls of nickles, totaling $8, were taken from the Pennings Country Club after entry was gained by breaking front door glass. Clarence Pennings, operator, Thursday had reported the theft of 12 bowling balls from his firm.

Skunk Hill Tavern

An inventory is scheduled to determine if anything is missing from the Skunk Hill Tavern at rural Freedom. Entry was gained by forcing a rear door. The Skunk Hill burglary was the last reported in the series of overnight break-ins.

An undetermined amount of gasoline was taken from the Freedom service station where front door glass was broken. A key for the gasoline pump was taken from inside the building.

About $2 was taken from the Red Owl Store at Shiocton, according to county investigators.

About $15 was taken from a cash register at the Standard Service Station. Burglars were unsuccessful in an attempt to enter Johnson's Service Station where a window was smashed.

Investigators said the same general methods of entry were used at most of the places that were burglarized.

downtown Appleton at a cost of $150,000.

The new Lucalox lamps, developed by General Electric Co., will be included in the designing and reconstruction of College Avenue.

It is expected to increase the present downtown business district illumination to 10 times its present volume, a group of city officials were told at a special meeting at city hall Thursday night.

Replacing the present mercury vapor light system with Lucalox was recommended by the council's public safety committee, street-sanitation committee, city electrical inspection, director of inspections, lighting engineers and representatives of Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

Receive Credit
It was made clear that College Avenue property owners would receive a credit for the existing lights erected in 1953.

At present, the only city in the country with a complete Lucalox lighting system blanket, covering its main business district, is St. Louis, Mo.

However, GE and power company engineers said others are considering installation of the revolutionary light which was born out of space research, developed over the past four years and placed on the market Jan. 1.

"By using this new type of system you are talking about providing 10 times as much light as now exists on College Avenue," Frank Laughter, Appleton, a GE representative, told the group.

"We had engineers give considerable attention to a proposed lighting system for College Avenue, and the conclusion was that while Lucalox may cost more for original installation, it will be the best and most economical lighting for downtown in the long run," Laughter added.

The system envisioned for the avenue would be similar to St. Louis.

Patrolman Discovers 'Coffee Fund' Theft

A small amount of change was taken from a "coffee fund" jar in a burglary late Thursday night at Rector Motor Co., 212 N. Division St.

The theft was discovered at 11:43 p.m. by an Appleton patrolman. Entry was gained by breaking a window, police said.

Valley Life Underwriters Learn Value of Enthusiasm in Selling

Over 200 members of the Fox River Valley Association of Life Underwriters and guests heard James E. Dornoff explain "The Power of Enthusiasm in Selling Life Insurance" at a noon luncheon Thursday.

Dornoff, a professional speaker and sales consultant, received a standing ovation at the end of the group's first meeting for the 1966-67 season in the conference room at the Aid Association for Lutherans building.

Dornoff concentrated on selling and success in general. He immediately pointed to a fundamental rule for deriving satisfaction from any endeavor — "always help other people. The thrill of it all," he explained, "comes from knowing you've

Frederick W. Schultz, 58, Dies; Associated With Furniture Firm

Frederick W. Schultz, 58, 2114 N. Clark St., died at his home about 7:20 p.m. Thursday.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called to the home at 7:03 p.m. and administered oxygen until the man was pronounced dead by a doctor. Cause of death was attributed to a heart attack.

Schultz was associated with the Brettschneider Furniture Co. for the last 35 years. He also was a member of the St. Joseph Cemetery Board. Survivors are the widow, a daughter, two sons, two brothers, two sisters and nine grandchildren. The body was released to the Brettschneider-Tretlin Funeral Home where arrangements are incomplete.

helped somebody find himself in the wild scramble for success." He listed church, trade and civic organizations as excellent places to learn what helping others means.

After establishing the fundamental rule, the speaker moved to business methods. While attacking the theory that selling depends mostly on the product, he said, "Three-fourths of business is handling people." He offered enthusiasm, not the product, as the most important factor. Combined with the ability to express it, he continued,

More Park Vandalism Discovered

Bath House at Erb, Light Poles at Mead Damaged Thursday

Nearly $800 damage was done at Erb and Meade Park swimming pools Wednesday night, Appleton police learned Thursday afternoon.

Police said the Meade and Erb parks probably were struck by vandals about the same time damage was done at City Park and Pierce Park pavilions. Damage at the latter two parks was discovered Thursday morning. The damage at the two pools was reported about 3:45 p.m. Thursday by Lloyd Koehnke, acting city recreation director.

At Erb Park, the bath house was painted with various letters, numbers and obscene phrases, police said. The doors, sides and roof were painted. A spray can apparently was used, although police could find none in the area. Park officials estimated it would cost about $90 to repaint the building.

Two 12-foot aluminum light poles were broken off at the Meade Park pool. The poles were valued at nearly $100 each.

Investigation is continuing into the painting of the pavilion in City Park and vandalism Wednesday night at Pierce Park where a telephone was damaged, toilets were plugged with putty and tissue paper rollers, and attempts were made to start fires.

Planning Commission Studies Future School Problems at Kimberly

A report to measure the impact of future school enrollment, both public and private, at the Kimberly High School, has been completed by the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Commission officials said the report was delivered to Kimberly superintendent Ray Hamann Thursday. The report, prepared at the request of the school board, is said to contain standards used in planning school facilities; a geographic study of the district and its population; analysis of the existing facilities' capacity and enrollment projections.

Man Denies Two Traffic Violations

Donald Oskey, 20, 3628 E. Wisconsin Ave., this morning pleaded innocent to charges of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license was revoked, and making an illegal turn.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set bond at $130 and set trial for Feb. 6.

Oskey was arrested earlier this month by Appleton police who alleged the offenses occurred in the 400 block of N. Richmond Street.

Man Charged in Slaying Still Hospitalized

E. J. Kubitz Awaits Court Appearance on 1st Degree Murder

Authorities said this morning they still do not know when Edward J. Kubitz, 70, 1422 E. Wisconsin Ave., charged in the fatal shooting of his former daughter-in-law, will be released from Appleton Memorial Hospital.

The Appleton man is in the hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound in his left foot. He was hospitalized shortly after a shooting Sept. 11 which also resulted in the death of Mrs. Delores Kubitz, 32, divorcee and the mother of two young children.

Kubitz remains under 24-hour police guard. He will be arraigned on a first degree murder charge in Outagamie County Court immediately after his discharge from the hospital.

The murder charge was brought Sept. 13 following a John Doe hearing in County Court Branch 2.

One official speculated today that Kubitz "probably will be in the hospital for some time yet." He reportedly is recovering satisfactorily from his wound which he told police he received as he was unloading a gun which accidentally discharged.

Mrs. Delores Kubitz, who lived just across the back yard from her ex-father-in-law, at 1419 E. Amelia St., was struck in the back with a single blast from a 12 gauge shotgun as she worked in a small garden behind her home about 7 p.m. Sept. 11.

Police believe the shot was fired from a second level window of the Edward Kubitz garage.

Towns Assessments Provide Largest Gain in Land Values, Building Figures Are Stationary

Equalized real estate values of Outagamie County's towns, villages and cities increased 13.22 per cent from May 1, 1965 to May 1, of this year according to the state Department of Taxation.

D. J. Sherman, supervisor of assessments, said results of a physical mass appraisal in the county showed major changes occurring in land values. "There hasn't been too much change as far as building values are concerned," Sherman said today in presenting the state's equalized values to the county equalization committee, made up of all supervisors of the county board.

"I believe that our figures are conservative," Sherman said. Total value of real estate and personal property arrived at by state assessors is listed at $728,878,130. Last year's total was $643,701,000.

Real Values
Real estate value constituted the bulk of equalized values, jumping from $564,987,300 to $639,650,500 for 1966.

"The percentage of growth in towns is higher than in cities," Sherman said citing the Town of Grand Chute in particular. "Growth is not occurring in metropolitan areas but in adjacent townships," he said, which applies pressure on the towns and causes land values to increase.

"College Avenue area going west to the highway (U.S. 14) is beginning to look just like downtown Appleton," he said. Consequently the land value has gone up, Sherman added.

"With the tight money situation existing, we don't know if land values will stabilize. Whatever happens we are bound to follow," he said defending figures which received some debate from supervisors at the meeting.

Recommend Figures

The county equalization committee voted to recommend the state's figures for adoption by the Outagamie County Board at its October meeting. There were a few dissenting voice votes. Since the equalization committee is made up of the entire county

Eye Span Contract At Butte des Morts

Filling in Lake for Approaches To Start This Fall on U. S. 41

MADISON (AP) — The State Highway Commission reported today that it hopes to let contracts this fall for initial work on a new Lake Butte des Morts bridge northwest of Oshkosh.

The bridge is designed to eliminate a bottleneck on U.S. Highway 41 between Green Bay and Milwaukee.

The contracts would provide fill in the lake to serve as approaches for the structure. The fill could settle during the winter and construction could follow in the spring.

Vere K. Fiedler, commission secretary, said the state is ready to seek bids for the structure itself, but needs approval from the Army Corps of Engineers for a suggested 30-foot clearance for the two lane facility.

Traffic Snag
The new bridge would serve as a companion to the present mile long bridge where traffic has sometimes been forced to back up for miles.

"We're still hoping to get word from the corps so we can contract for some of the work this fall, but if we don't get approval of the proposed clearance we'll try to go ahead with fill and grading at least," Fiedler added.

The corps has been studying clearance plans for about seven months and the commission is hoping to get word in October, the secretary said.

Total cost of the project is expected to be nearly $2 million.

Plan $100,000 Storage Building At Combined Locks

COMBINED LOCKS — Six men from the Village of Combined Locks and Kimberly, who formed a corporation known as a Warehouse Specialists Inc., have taken out a building permit for a $100,000 warehouse to be built between Prospect Street and the Fox River near the western limits of the village.

Members of the corporation include Marvin Schumacher, Charles Lindberg, Mark Vande Yacht, Joseph Dietzen, Donald Romenesco and Carl Nagan. Much of the preliminary work on the warehouse is being handled by the men comprising the corporation.

The warehouse will be 254 by 120 feet incorporating about 30,000 square feet of floor space. Height of the concrete and steel structure will be 24 feet and large doors will be provided for easy entry into the building. No plans have been made to heat the structure.

The building is expected to be completed about mid-November and the incorporators hope to rent the structure to area industries which require additional warehouse space.

A building permit was also issued to Oakwood Hills Supper Club, route 4, Appleton, for a 29 by 24 foot addition to the dining area. Cost of the addition was listed at $9,000 and work is being handled by Welhouse Construction, Kaukauna.

Bond Set at $150 on Driver's License Charge

Lloyd A. Koepke, 42, route 1, Bonduel, charged by Outagamie County police with operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license was revoked, had his case continued this morning to next Friday.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller set bond at $150. Koepke, who was arrested Thursday in the Town of Cicero, did not enter a plea today.

Dodge County Also Has Jurisdictional Problems

Outagamie County Court isn't the only court in the state with jurisdictional problems. Dodge County has the same predicament — and probably worse.

Dodge County Judge Clarence G. Traeger called attention to the problem in his county in a letter received Thursday by Assemblyman Harold V. Froehlich of Appleton and Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Judge Traeger asked that Froehlich introduce a bill in the state legislature that would spell out jurisdictional boundaries not only for Outagamie County courts, but for all courts where the present areas of jurisdiction encompass cities or villages that lie in more than one county.

Froehlich, Outagamie County First District Republican, said earlier this week he intends to introduce a bill early in the 1967 session of the state legislature that would allow Outagamie County Court Branch 2 jurisdiction over Appleton ordinance violations that occur in the Calumet County portion of the city.

The move came after Judge Keller last Friday dismissed a case against a 63-year-old Appleton man charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, because the judge, following a petition from the man's attorney, ruled that his court has no jurisdiction over offenses that occur in the Calumet County part of Appleton. The man's car ran into the rear of a parked car on S. Madison Street, just south of the Outagamie County line.

Urges Extension
Judge Traeger, in his letter to Froehlich, stated, "...I believe this bill should be extended to make it applicable to all similar situations. We have a crying need in this county (Dodge) for some such consideration, in that we have communities located on the border of the county which lie in more than one county.

"For instance, Waupun is in Fond du Lac and Dodge Counties. The Village of Randolph is in Columbia and Dodge Counties, and the City of Watertown is in Jefferson and Dodge Counties."

Judge Traeger informed Froehlich that he thinks if the present law is amended, jurisdiction should be given to county courts to include all parts of cities and villages lying in two or more counties.

He continued, "I am sending a copy of this letter to the Judicial Council in the hope that they may take an active part in the introduction of the legislation with you, Mr. Froehlich, and I trust that any offer of legislation will be broad enough to cover all situations and not be restricted to Appleton."

Low Milk Prices

Outagamie NFO Might Sell Cows in Protest

BEAR CREEK — The Outagamie County chapter of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) may protest low milk prices paid to farmers by selling their dairy cows or selling more milk through collection points where it is in greater demand and a better price is offered.

Larry Kruzicki, Bear Creek, president of the Outagamie NFO, told members Tuesday night at Twelve Corners that the action may be necessary unless the cooperatives in the county work with the farmers and NFO.

Peter Bethke, dairy bargaining chairman of the Brown County NFO who also is associated with Nation Wide Milk Producers Inc., spoke on the need for cooperatives to work together in collective bargaining, especially in the dairy industry.

Bethke said that milk prices in Ohio and Michigan had been raised substantially through the efforts of collective bargaining and cooperatives.

The NFO claims milk prices have gone up approximately four cents a quart to the consumer while the American dairy farmers, it says, has received only one cent of this increase.

Quota for the Outagamie County unit in the cheese for servicemen in Viet Nam promotion was set at $1,000, the same as Waupaca County.

Theodore Kirchner, Shiocton, was appointed chairman of the cheese promotion in Outagamie. A total of 30,000 pounds from national collections was sent during June and has since been followed by a second shipment.

Collect $200

The group expects to receive some assistance from businessmen and other interested persons to add to the $200 collected at Tuesday's meeting.

Captains for each town will be appointed to obtain cheese and the organization, "We Care," will package it.

Orris Smith, Black Creek, explained the need for marketing arrangements and the urgent need for collective bargaining in American agriculture.

Next meeting of the Outagamie NFO will be Oct. 18 at the Penning's Hall, 12 Corners.

Red Cross Procedure in Viet Nam Told at Outagamie Annual Parley

"The Red Cross is in Viet Nam because our servicemen are there; because they are our boys for whom we can provide financial assistance, counseling and communications from home," board members and volunteers of the Outagamie County Chapter of the American Red Cross were told Thursday at the 49th annual meeting.

Speaking on "Our Red Cross in Viet Nam" was Lyle L. Heide, Red Cross field director, who recently returned after 18 months of service in Viet Nam.

Heide, who had to develop a Red Cross program at Qui Nhon, an area along the coast, told the audience of the difficulties he encountered.

Work Started
"My work began in a small tent next to the helicopter pad; eventually I was moved into the hallway of the officers' quarters and finally we established a place of our own," he said.

While there, he also had to help fight a malaria epidemic which created a shortage of beds in the hospital tents and patients had to be placed in the open air.

"The hospital operation was big, totaling 1,000 beds, and still they couldn't accommodate everyone, so you can see what kind of a situation that was," Heide said.

Upon arrival he was immediately swamped with messages from the states, and again he encountered difficulties.

"There was much delay in getting messages to those in the field and sometimes it took us 15 days to deliver them," Heide said.

Counseling, too, was an important part of the work.

Husband's Nomadic Habit Is Disturbing to His Tired Wife

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I wrote to you two years ago about my husband who couldn't stay in one town long enough for me to enjoy the flowers I planted. You said it was a wife's job to "go where the grapes grow"—so off we went again—our 11th move in 16 years. Well, the grapes are sour again. New Mexico was too dry and Oregon was too wet. Caliknow what caused it.

When I was a child (40 years ago) I overheard some adults talking about a man who had been pronounced dead and taken to a funeral home. He was actually in a coma. When the mortician saw the "corpse" move, he almost had a heart attack. A physician was summoned at once. He rushed over and revived the "dead" man who lived five years after that.

A few years later my grandfather died. When I went to the wake I was petrified. I was sure grandpa would come alive at any moment. The thought of it made me physically ill. From that day to this I have asked my friends to excuse me from going to funerals and I tell them why. They all understand.—Count Me Out.

Dear Count: If you haven't been able to overcome the

Lynda Bird Stops Off in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor George Hamilton invited Hollywood's elite to an intimate dinner party for Lynda Bird Johnson, and the main topic of conversation was her father, the President.

It was a typically informal Hollywood party Thursday night. The setting was Hamilton's 39-room baronial mansion, Grey Hall and dinner — a candlelit buffet nibbled in a balmy California evening around the swimming pool.

Dressed Casually

The women wore their casual clothes — Carol Channing in a white pleated skirt and red vest, Merle Oberon adorned with diamonds and emeralds.

Lynda Bird, in a cobalt blue lace dress and a healthy suntan, was relaxed and smiling as Hamilton kidded about his first meeting with her father.

Miss Johnson arrived in Los Angeles Thursday after a week in Hawaii.

Surprise for Lynda

Hamilton surprised Lynda by inviting an old family friend, former presidential aide Jack Valenti, now president of the Motion Picture Producers Association of America.

Hamilton's mother, Ann Hamilton Spalding, was hostess.

Also among the guests were Rex Harrison and his wife, Rachel Roberts; Warren Beatty; Glenn Ford and his wife, Kathy fornia had too many people and Montana didn't have enough people. Atlanta was no good because he couldn't understand what the natives were saying. Boston was no good because the natives couldn't understand what HE was saying.

Our children have adjusted to these moves beautifully so that is not the problem. It's just that I am sick of pulling up stakes every time my husband gets into his head to move. Last night he started to cough and said, "I know I'd feel better in Phoenix."

He's a first class machinist and can make a good living wherever he goes. Is there any chance that I can get him to stay put this time?

—Mrs. Nomad

Dear Mrs.: Probably not. So be thankful the children haven't suffered from the repeated uprooting and go along with the loon. I don't believe in egging people on to fight battles they can't win.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our oldest son is in his third year of college. My husband and I are having a serious disagreement over how much financial help we should give the boy.

Nick has always been a hard worker, a saver and very independent. He and his father do not get along well. The first two years my husband paid Nick's tuition and offered him a spending allowance which Nick refused.

This year Nick says he doesn't want any financial help at all. He insists on using the money he has saved from working. My husband says this is O.K. with him but it is not O.K. with me.

I feel parents are morally obligated to put their children through college if they possibly can. We are not millionaires but we can handle the boy's education with no strain. Please agree with me in print. I need your help.—N.R.

Dear N.R.: Sorry, but you will get no help from me on this one. Obviously Nick has opted to paddle his own canoe. His demonstration of independence and initiative should be applauded, not undermined. The more our kids do for themselves the better off they'll be. So for heaven's sake, mother, leave him alone. He sounds like a winner.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I sympathize with the woman who was terrified whenever she had to go to a funeral home and look at a dead person. I have the same horrible fear—but I

Mrs. Johnson Certain of 'America the Beautiful'

By FRANCES LEWINE

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — After a four-day, 4,300-mile western trip the nation's First Lady says she is convinced America can surmount the threat of population explosions and achieve more beautiful surroundings.

Returning to her Texas ranch today, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said she had seen sights of staggering natural and man-made beauty. They ranged from the California seashore to the majestic 710-foot-high Glen Canyon.

"We are living in an age that puts new premium on beauty," she said in a speech in Santa Fe while visiting the Institute of American Indian Arts. Mrs. Austin, Tex., at 3:30 p.m. EDT Johnson, spotlighting culture as to let Mrs. Johnson off so she well as beauty on her trip, toured a school which is training Indian youngsters to make use of their cultural heritage in Washington, D.C.

the arts. Mrs. Johnson said she was eager to report to President Johnson what she has seen. The President was expected to join her at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., for the weekend.

Before departing for Texas today, the First Lady planned to visit San Ildefonso Indian pueblo to see the stone and adobe buildings there, some of which date back to the 14th century.

At the last minute, Mrs. Johnson added to her schedule a 70-minute drive into nearby Carson National Forest to see groves of aspen trees turning golden in a display of fall color. Her chartered jet plane was scheduled to leave Santa Fe for American Indian Arts. Mrs. Johnson can go to the ranch. The plane, carrying about 60 press and staff members, will go on to use of their cultural heritage in Washington, D.C. wishbone arm-type fixtures. Poles, now 180 feet apart, would be spaced at 100 foot intervals.

It was disclosed that Appleton's downtown lighting system now provides less than one foot of candle power. That is why engineers recommended an increase to 10 candle power, which they said, would give the city's main shopping district adequate lighting for many years.

Adequate Lighting

"We wouldn't want to recommend a system which would have to be updated in a few years," commented John McLean of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

McLean confirmed the prediction of the GE lighting engineers that in the long run, Lucalox lights would be more economical when it came to operational costs.

"We are interested in selling power but we are also interested in seeing to it that downtown Appleton has the best type of lighting system possible even though it will mean less energy consumption in the long run," McLean added.

It is proposed to light each College Avenue intersection with four poles, two focused directly on the avenue and others providing additional lighting balance from the crossover streets.

Relocate Fixtures

Existing 1,000 watt mercury vapor lights, which will have to be removed along with the standards for the reconstruction, would be installed on streets north and south of the avenue, and elsewhere in keeping with a citywide lighting improvement program.

Each Lucalox bulb will be 400 watt, engineers said, providing more than twice as much light per watt as does the present mercury vapor lamp.

They said it would not be advisable to use Lucalox lighting in residential areas because it gives too much light, but emphasized that in the case of the city's No. 1 shopping area "it would show where the action is."

Engineers and city officials agreed it would be a chance for Appleton to come up with a "first" which would provide the ultimate in natural lighting and give the city a headstart on others in Wisconsin and most communities in the Midwest.

Lighting Justified

When considering cost, power and maintenance — the group concluded Lucalox lighting could be justified for the avenue which will be 64 feet wide.

During the meeting, one 400-watt Lucalox bulb illuminated the entire council chambers, an indication of the light strength to be provided by the new system.

In addition to considerably improved lighting for street and sidewalk areas, engineers gave assurance the proposed system would also do "a terrific job" for store windows, representing a boon for merchandisers.

Inspection Director Charles Magnette and Electrical Inspector Joseph Schoenhaar said they had an opportunity to see what Lucalox lighting could do and highly recommended it for College Avenue.

No Objections

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), council president, favored the new lighting as did Ald. John Ayers (12th), public safety committee chairman. None of the 10 aldermen attending the meeting indicated objection to Lucalox lighting.

It was stressed by Magnette and others that no matter what type of lighting is used on the avenue, the cost of removing and putting up standards again during the reconstruction would represent about 35 to 40 per cent of any lighting project.

Pointer and others agreed the property owners, who will pay the special assessment, would have "a sizeable credit" applied to their bill.

The lighting will be included in specifications for the College Avenue reconstruction for which bids will be taken, starting Nov. 15.

Pointer said the city hoped to have one contractor handle the reconstruction so the project could be completed in one year, rather than spreading it out over two years. He said a penalty-bonus clause would be in the reconstruction contract.

board, adoption of the equalization report is nearly assured.

The state totals will be used to establish full value assessments for the new county budget. The equalization becomes the basis for distributing county tax on a proportionate basis among communities.

There are nearly 100 statutory uses for the equalization figures, more than half of which deal with school administration.

Grand Chute showed the greatest increase of real estate values for a town going from just over $36 million last year to more than $53 million for 1966. The Town of Maine registered the second highest per cent of increase, 44.9 per cent based on a boost from $1.6 million in real estate values in 1965 to about $2.4 million this year.

Appleton real estate equalized values represented more than half the county's total but real estate values increased only 6.07 per cent in the city, according to the report. Total real estate value in Appleton was listed at $302,946,900.

Using the recommended figures, as a basis, each town will pay a portion of county taxes according to its equalized values. According to the state report, the Town of Grand Chute will pay 6.687 per cent of the total. Appleton's share is 49.702 per cent; Kaukauna, 11.301 per cent; Village of Kimberly, 6.396 per cent, and the Villages of Little Chute and Combined Locks are listed just over 2.8 per cent each.

Weed Cutting
Fee Increased

Schedule Raised To Point Where City Breaks Even

The price for weed cutting will be higher in Appleton next year.

It's not that inflation is taking its toll, but city officials feel property owners who fail to tend to weeds have been getting too much of a break.

Starting with 1967, municipal weed cutting charges will make more of an impact on their pocketbooks.

This was assured this week when the council, acting on a recommendation of the board of public works, set a new rate schedule.

—Special assessment for weed cutting in a 60 by 120 lot was boosted from $10 to $15.

—The hourly rate has been increased from $8 to $12 with a minimum charge of $15.

—And the hand-scythe treatment of weeds has been raised from $4 to $6 an hour.

Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) said the city should not be in the weed cutting business, but if it had to be the service should not be a money loser.

He advocated a fine for persistent violators of the municipal weed ordinance, or a boost in rates.

And, Park Supt. Harold Jerke, who also serves as city weed commissioner, indicated Appleton has been "losing money on the weed cutting program."

"If we raise the price to the point where the city is at least breaking even," Jerke said, "then some of these people might take care of the weeds themselves."

Finance Director Henry Schreve indicated weed cutting represented a "financial pain" for the city, disclosing that under existing rates it was recouping only 25 per cent of actual cost.

Two Gerald Wagners Have Aldermanic Backgrounds

There are two Gerald Wagners with aldermanic backgrounds in the Fox Cities.

And therein lies a story of mistaken identity.

Gerald Wagner, former Appleton 18th Ward alderman, was He's from Appleton and served on the council for 12 years before deciding to step down last spring.

However, the wrong Wagner got his picture in the paper Thursday.

Inadvertently, the photo of Gerald Wagner, present Menasha alderman, appeared with the story.

So, for the record:

Former alderman Gerald Wagner resides at 1530 N. Erb St. in Appleton.

Present alderman Gerald Wagner lives at 417 Alnaip St. in Menasha, representing that city's third ward.

portant part of the Red Cross worker's duties.

"These young people need to talk to someone who is not a military person, often just to tell another person he is scared," Heide said.

"And we often assisted those who were on leave but had no money to get home. We gave them a loan or a grant immediately because after all, a boy on leave was concerned about getting home right now — there was no time to wait until he could save money," he said.

"If he could not repay us we would tell them that this was a gift of the Red Cross, and thereby, the American people," Heide explained.

The field director also praised the chaplains, "who are often right up there with the boys; who helped us deliver the messages from home and ease the pain when there was bad news," he said.

The Red Cross program has expanded now and there are about 225 staff members in the area. The latest addition of services are the Red Cross centers to serve those who don't necessarily need hospitalization or other care but would like to talk to an American girl, write a letter or just get a cup of coffee, Heide said.

"Whatever the services, you can be proud that you and people like you volunteering your time and effort to the Red Cross, made them possible," Heide told the volunteers.

New Officers

New Outagamie Chapter officers were also elected. Dr. H. P. Dixon, will serve as the new chairman, replacing Donald Morrissey; Lloyd Taylor, vice chairman, replacing Dixon; Gilbert A. Beglinger and Mrs. George Boyd will remain as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Two new members on the executive committee are Ivo Van Handel and Owen Kuehsted, replacing Robert Masse and Col. Max A. Brackett.

Re-elected to three-year terms were Morrissey, Richard Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Petersen. Newly-elected members of the board are Paul Stenert, Norbert Rhinerson, Mrs. Eugene Pierce, Stephen Freschl and William Selle.

Certificates of merit were presented to Orville Nelson, Hortonville, in behalf of the new rural board; and Kuehsted and Lloyd Doerfler, retiring members. Doerfler also received a plaque from the national headquarters for his outstanding volunteer work.

Also honored with national certificates were Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey, for their outstanding work and a check for $3,715, collected during a special emergency campaign, was presented to the national chapter.

Mayor George Buckley, Appleton, extended greetings and praised the organization for its work.

Vikes Play Host to Carls Saturday in MC Opener

Tigers, Angels Split

Baltimore Clinches First Pennant Since 1896 With 6-1 Victory

BY DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

"I won't be satisfied," Hank Bauer said two weeks ago, "until we have a 10-game lead with nine games to play."

The numbers fell neatly into place Thursday for Bauer's Orioles—and the city of Baltimore popped its cork.

California's 5-3 victory over second-place Detroit in the opener of a doubleheader was old news on the scoreboard at Kansas City when Baltimore center fielder Russ Snyder dove for Dick Green's ninth-inning line drive—and speared the Orioles' first American League pennant.

Snyder's catch completed a 6-1 triumph over the Athletics, mathematically buried the Tigers and made Baltimore a major league title town for the first time since 1896, when the old Orioles of Ned Hanlon, Wilbert Robinson and John McGraw captured the last of their three National League flags.

Champagne Flows

The champagne was still flowing in the Baltimore clubhouse when Detroit won its nightcap against the Angels 7-0, finishing the day 10 lengths off the pace—with nowhere to go in its remaining nine games.

Frank Robinson, whose personal assault on the Triple Crown—batting, home run and runs batted in titles—in his first AL campaign led the Orioles' pennant charge, proclaimed: "This is the first real champagne I ever had with a winner."

He was needing the Cincinnati Reds, who dealt him to Baltimore last winter in a controversial trade for pitcher Milt Pappas. Frank had powered the Reds to a National League pennant in 1961.

Foul Weather

While the Orioles secured their World Series berth, the Yankees bowed to Chicago 4-1 before 413 foul-weather fans and slipped further into the league basement. The crowd was the smallest in the majors this season and the smallest on record for a Yankee Stadium game.

Wide-Open Game Anticipated Between Title Contenders; Carleton Has New Quarterback

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Devotees of wide-open football may have a field day Saturday when Lawrence University clashes with Carleton College in the attractive Lawrence Bowl.

The Carls, who feature a prototype offense, gained almost 60 per cent of their yardage through the sky-ways last year. The Vikes, who have added a few new wrinkles to their effective 1965 offense, are expected to put the ball in the air more frequently this autumn.

Saturday's clash — kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. — between apparent title contenders launches the 1966 Midwest Conference campaign.

The Vikings, who play eight teams in the same order as last year (only Coe is omitted), hope history repeats itself. Lawrence stunned Carleton, 35-7, in the first stage of a surprisingly successful season under rookie head coach Ron Roberts.

If the Vikes did catch the Mel Taube-coached Knights by surprise last year, it almost certainly won't happen this time. The Carls, like the rest of

Fox Lutheran Bids For Third Victory In Row Saturday

Foxes Launch Gridiron Rivalry Against Visiting Onalaska

BY TIM PETERMANN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Sporting a defense that has yielded only six points and 130 yards in two games, Fox Valley Lutheran High School will play host to Onalaska Luther Saturday in its final non-conference game before heading into its 5-game Midwest Prep Conference slate.

This will be the first meeting of the two schools in football, however, the Foxes and Knights have developed a bitter rivalry in basketball, and it probably will be carried onto the gridiron.

Both teams enter the contest with a 2-game win streak. The Foxes have swept both games they have played, while the Knights were beaten by cross-town rival Onalaska High in their opener but bounced back to knock off Trempealeau and Harmony, Minn.

Luther coach Ted Kothe has 12 lettermen on his squad, including two juniors and a sophomore. Among these are co-captains Tom Schnick and Bill Hauser at quarterback and center respectively. Don Larson and Larry Lemke, both of whom led Luther's state-ranked cage team last season, will start at ends.

Still Sidelined

Coach Dave Umms will be going with the same lineup that carried the Foxes past Southern Door and Sevastopol. Bob Schuelke, a senior safety, will again be out of action because of the knee injury he suffered in the Foxes' opener. Sophomore Jeff Spitzer has filled his position.

Howie Korth and Wayne Kaminske also have knee injuries but are expected to start. Umms has also indicated that junior Ron Rahn may see more action at halfback.

In reviewing last week's encounter, Umms stated that he was "pleased but not satisfied." He added that mistakes proved costly in preventing FVL from scoring more, but the team hit hard and moved the ball well and the kicking game was good.

He cited Elwyn Kluess and Brad Plamann as turning in an outstanding job on defense.

Umms attributed the success of the defense thus far to the new system he installed this year. Explaining the new setup, Umms said that it is easily adjustable to any situation whether it be long or short yardage. Assistant coach Bill Lueders added that the kids were sold on the system, which makes the coaching easier.

Its success is seen in the fact that FVL has seven interceptions to its credit and the front line has broken through on 18 different occasions to nail opposing backs for losses totaling 103 yards.

Offensively, quarterback Dave Tiedt has spear-headed the attack. He has connected on 15 of 28 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns. Paul Mueller has eight receptions for 92 yards and a TD. Korth is the workhorse in the backfield as he has carried 28 times for 105 yards. Sophomore John Hanne-mann has added 69 yards on just 12 carries.

The Badgers invaded Southern California Saturday night having opened with a 20-10 triumph over Iowa State, a team to which Wisconsin has never lost.

By contrast, Southern Cal has never bowed to the Badgers, and that peerless record is not considered imperiled either.

The Trojans, who have tipped Wisconsin twice in the Rose Bowl, rolled up 345 yards in a balanced attack by land and air to top Texas 10-6 last weekend. The victory brought ranking as No. 5 in the nation.

FVCC Title Picture May Be Clarified

Chuters Meet Xavier-Stopping Lourdes; Hawks Duel Springs

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Even one of those amazing mechanical monsters, a computer, would have trouble coming up with some answers to key questions about the Fox Valley Catholic Conference football race this fall.

What would happen if you fed the nut and bolt factory some of these queries:

Will Marinette Central Catholic and Paul Sharkey do it again?

Has Oshkosh Lourdes jelled overnight into a powerhouse on defense?

Will the fury of the Xavier Hawks explode after last week's surprising setback?

Can Little Chute St. John and new coach Avitus Ripp continue to surprise the dopesters?

A Clearer Look

Followers of the FVCC gridiron squads will get a chance for a clearer look at things after this Saturday's contests. The four unbeaten clubs are paired, while the four teams with 0-1 marks also do battle.

In afternoon games Saturday, Lourdes will be at St. John and Menasha St. Mary will travel to Green Bay Premonstr. Then, Saturday night, Xavier goes to Fond du Lac Springs and Marinette invades DePere to face Abbot Penning.

To say last weekend's games produced some surprises would be putting it mildly. Xavier was favored, but lost to Lourdes, 6-0.

Bad News Barnes Traded to Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers have acquired center-forward Jim (Bad News) Barnes from the Baltimore Bullets for center Leroy Ellis.

Barnes, a 6-foot-8, 240-pound former Olympic Games player, was traded to the Bullets last year at mid-season by the New York Knickerbockers.

Rookie Hurler Wins Sixth Straight

Red-Hot Braves Jolt Pirates, 14-1

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Atlanta Braves enjoy baseball these days because they know who's playing before they get to the ball park.

The second-place Pirates moved into Atlanta Thursday night, intending to cut the National League lead of the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to one game. Instead, the Braves trounced the Pirates 14-1 and boosted the Dodgers' margin to two games.

The victory was the Braves' sixth straight, 19th in the last 21 games and 30th against 12 defeats since coach Billy Hitchcock became Manager Billy Hitchcock.

Hottest Team

That makes the Braves the hottest team in the league since Hitchcock replaced Bobby Bragan Aug. 9. The surge has taken them from seventh place, 12½ games out, to fourth place, eight games out.

"The big thing has been that we go to the ball park and know who's going to play," catcher Joe Torre said, explaining the change in the team's attitude and fortunes. "You don't have to look on the board to see if you're playing."

"If a player knows he's going to play, he can conduct himself accordingly. Your mental attitude has a lot to do with it. If you know you're going to play, you're preparing yourself when you get up in the morning."

The victory Thursday night was the Braves fourth straight over the Pirates, the first three having come in Pittsburgh earlier this month. And there are three games to go before Pittsburgh leaves Atlanta.

Pirates Won 8

While Bragan managed the Braves, the Pirates won eight out of 10 games between the teams. If it had been up to them, they obviously would have kept Bragan in his job the rest of the year.

In the only other NL game,

Chicago downed Cincinnati 7-2. The Braves ruined any thoughts the Pirates might have had for a victory by erupting for six runs in the fourth inning. Ed Mathews singled home two runs in the inning after which Hank Aaron hit his 40th homer, a three-run blow.

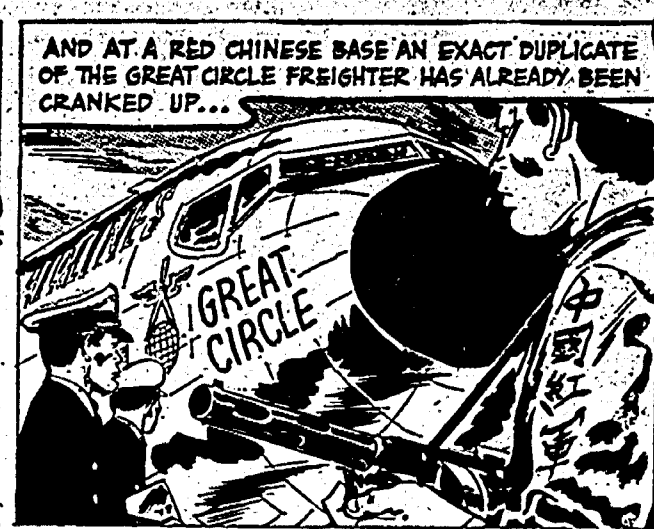

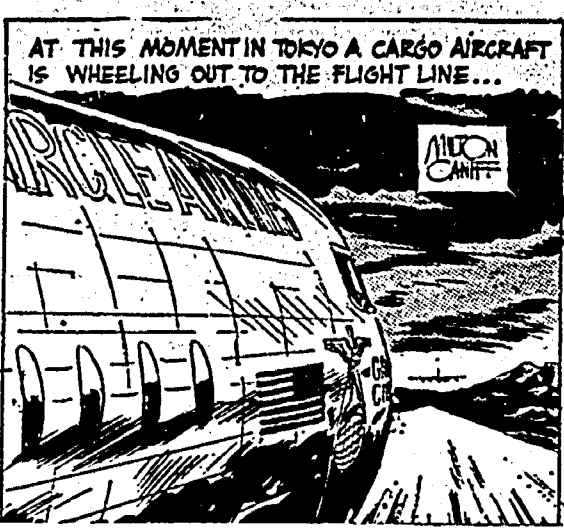

The Pirates got to Pat Jarvis for one run on three hits in the

Boilermaker QB Hit on 19 of 22 In Win Over Irish Last Year

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Purdue's Bob Griese may very well be the best quarterback in the Midwest but two sophomore signal callers could steal the show from him when the Boilermakers face Notre Dame Saturday.

The Irish will use Terry Hanratty and Coley O'Brien to call the plays and both Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf and Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's head man, think the pair will spell trouble for Griese and the Boilermakers.

Parseghian's offense which traveled almost exclusively along the ground last season, is expected to open up this year. The Irish still have hard-running Larry Conjar and Nick Eddy in the backfield but Parseghian is expected to let his sophomores throw the ball just the same.

More Running Room

"People won't be able to jam us and cram us," the coach says. "We'll be able to throw the ball and they will have to scatter whenever they think it's coming. That will give Conjar and Eddy more running room and that's all we want."

All Mollenkopf wants is a repeat of last year's 25-21 Purdue victory in which Griese completed an amazing 19 of 22 passes including 13 in a row over one stretch. It won't be easy.

Notre Dame's weak chink, if the eighth-ranked Irish have one, could be an all-rounder defensive backfield. It could mean a windfall for Griese, who directed No. 7-rated Purdue to a 42-3 rout of Ohio last week.

The game, only one matching two ranked teams this week, will be televised nationally by ABC.

Top-ranked Michigan State faces Penn State Saturday and UCLA, ranked No. 2, is at Syracuse. Alabama, the defending national champion, opens its season against Louisiana Tech Saturday night. The Crimson Tide is No. 3 in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Smith Anchors Defense

Michigan State, with huge Bubba Smith anchoring the defense and Clint Jones and Bob Apisa handling the running chores, got off to 28-10 victory over North Carolina State last week.

UCLA bombed Pittsburgh 57-14 in its opener and Syracuse will have to find a way to control quarterback Gary Beban if the Orangemen hope to win. Floyd Little handles the brunt of Syracuse's running game.

Nebraska, ranked fourth following a 14-10 victory over Texas Christian last week, faces Utah State Saturday. Fifth-ranked Southern California, 10-6 victor over Texas a week ago, takes on Wisconsin. Arkansas, which beat Oklahoma State 14-10 and is rated sixth, meets Tulsa.

Michigan and Baylor are ranked ninth and 10th. The Wolverines, who crushed Oregon State 41-0 in their opener, face California and Baylor, which beat Syracuse 39-12 two weeks ago, takes on Colorado.

President's Cup Tourney Set at FVGC Saturday

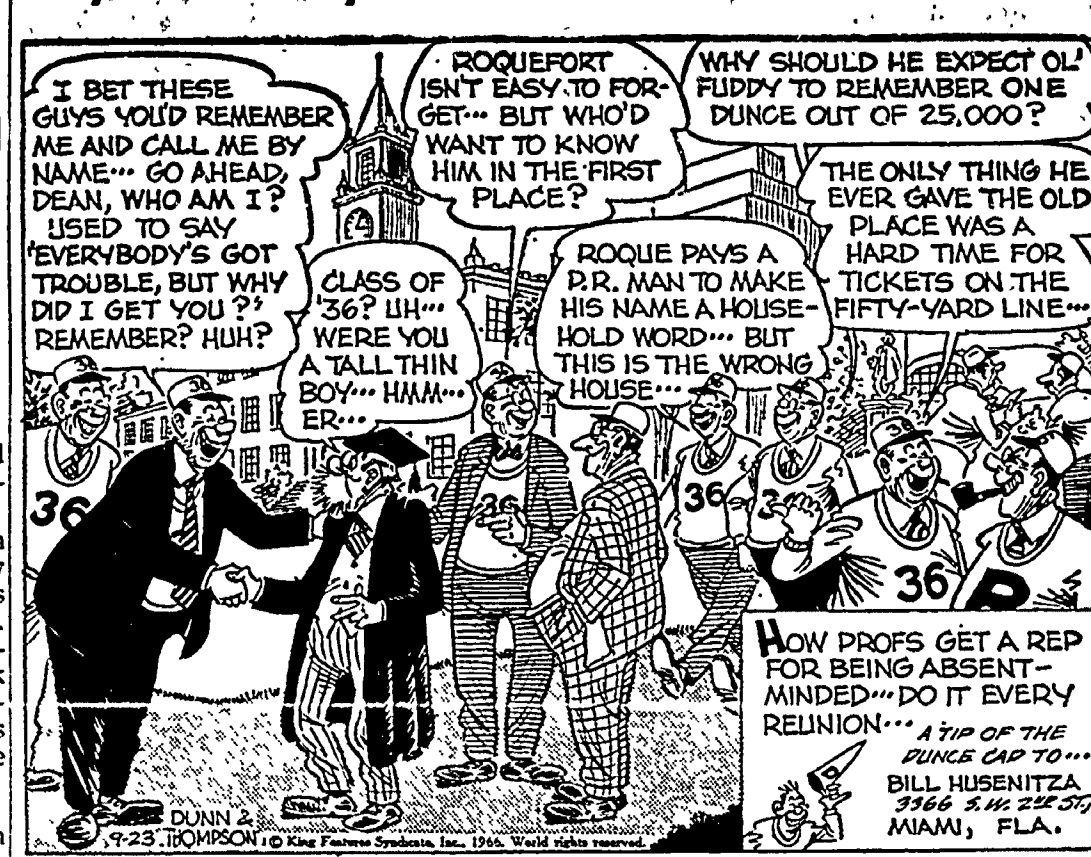

KAUKAUNA — The President's Cup tournament at Fox Valley Golf Club will be played Saturday.

The event will be a 1-day, 18-hole affair utilizing handicap. Formerly match play was used to eliminate all but 24 golfers and these then competed for the trophy. Due to the late start on the new course this year, it was decided to change the tourney.

Francis Heesakker, Little Chute, is defending champion, having won last year in a sudden-death match with Jerry Heiting. Entrants are to register with Don Erdman, club pro.

An awards dinner for members and their wives will be held after the tournament.

Dave Nagan Raps 265 Game

Dave Nagan pounded a 265 game and 638 series to set the pace in the 41 Bowl Classic League Thursday night.

The Hahn's Lanes team had a 1,023 high game total and other top individual scores included Don Brandenburg 247-622; Dave Laux 225-622; Chuck Bayer 602; and Duane "Kat" Kassube 602.

In the Thursday Night Businessmen's League at the Little Chute Recreation Lanes, Joe Reynebeau had the lone honor scores, a 233 game and 636 series.

Case Hits 599

The KCA General Office League at the 41 Bowl Thursday night saw Harold Case smack 577; 225 game and 599 series. The only other honor scores were a 560 by Hem Kuehl and a 555 by Paul Breitbach.

Franklin Post slammed a 226 game and Werner Trunk had a 575 series to pace the Tap-a-Keg League at Sabre Lanes Thursday night. Post finished with 558 series and Len Urban had a 562.

The Banta Men's League at Sabre Lanes last night saw John

Jung hit a 226 game and Denny Laux had a 566 series.

In the Grocer's League at the 41 Bowl Thursday night, Dick Mueller had a 559 series while Mendy Zussman posted a 554 and Bill Matey had a 551.

Picks Dallas Over Vikings

Hand Predicts Packers Will Tip Los Angeles

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Something has to give Sunday when the Green Bay Packers and Los Angeles Rams, only unbeaten teams in the Western Conference, meet at Green Bay.

The Rams, fresh from an upset over the Chicago Bears in a grudge game, think they may be able to go all the way. The Packers, having disposed of Baltimore and Cleveland in replays of last year's big games head into a normal schedule.

If the Rams had a little more punch, it would be tempting to pick them to upend the Packers, but that solid Green Bay defense should be able to handle the Roman Gabriel-Tommy McDonald aerials.

The old hand picker hit a 9-2 pace last week for a season total of 19-4-2 (AFL 10-1, NFL 9-3-2), but this could be a rough one. It is possible to see an upset behind every tree.

Let's take another shot with all games scheduled for Sunday.
NFL
Green Bay 13, Los Angeles 10—Packers will have to go over or around that big front four of the Rams and Bart Starr's swing passes to Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor may do the job. George Allen has Rams sky high but they can't afford to fumble against those Packer ballhawks.

Cleveland 27, St. Louis 24—They split last year. Cards winning big 49-13 with Charley Johnson healthy in early season. Cards usually give Browns fits and may do it again but after two defeats. Until Cookie can't give Frank Ryan too much trouble or he'll kill you with Paul Warfield and Gary Collins.

Dallas, 28, Minnesota 24—Cowboys just did edge Vikings 28-24 in Sept. 2 exhibition game despite big night by Bill Brown. Minnesota pass defense leaks and Don Meredith knows it. Pittsburgh 24, Washington 21 —And who would want to wager an old shoe on that one? Steelers must go with Ron Smith, who has only one pro game under his belt, and staggering Redskins keep giving away points faster than Sonny Jurgen-son can get them. Redskins won both games easily last year.

Baltimore 31, San Francisco 24—Home opener for the Colts with Johnny Unitas ready to make Raymond Berry a record holder. Raymond needs only 58 yards to take all-time receiving title. After two weeks to think about the 20-20 tie with Vikings, 49ers should be hungry for action.

Philadelphia 28, New York 17—Giants looked like disorganized club in Dallas. Eagles about due to explode against somebody, especially if weak pass rush gives Norm Snead time to find his targets.

Detroit 10, Atlanta 0—The Randy Johnson-Alex Hawkins combo is Falcons' main threat, but that Lion defense is tough. Chicago has a bye.

AFL
San Diego 28, Oakland 21—Raiders must be desperate for a win after losing two straight following opener in Miami. Chargers had one week off and they are aching to get even for 14-7 exhibition defeat by Oakland.

New York 35, Denver 7—Joe Namath can call the score in this one. Broncos making first Johnson healthy in early season. start for new coach with Ray Malavasi replacing Mac Speedie and may do it again but after two defeats. Until Cookie can't give Frank Ryan too much trouble or he'll kill you with Paul Warfield and Gary Collins.

Buffalo 21, Houston 20—Bills seem to have shaken off problems in romp over Miami 28-24 in Sept. 2 exhibition game. Chiefs haven't scored less than 31 points this year, including, exhibitions, so why not again. Miami has a bye.

Pick Wildcats Over Indiana in Big 10 Opener

MSU, OSU Favored To Capture Their Non-League Starts

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — This could be another tight-squeeze Saturday for most Big Ten football teams which gained a mere 5-4 advantage over outside competition in season openers last week.

In eight non-conference games, three Big Ten clubs are rated underdogs by the odds-makers while two others are given only even chances.

Favored are: Ohio State at home in its season start against Texas Christian, No. 1 ranked Michigan State in entertaining Penn State, and No. 9 Michigan at California.

Underdogs are: No. 7 Purdue at No. 8 Notre Dame in a nationally televised attraction marking the Irish's debut, Wisconsin at No. 5 Southern California at night, and Minnesota at home against Stanford.

Rated toss-ups are Oregon State at Iowa and Missouri at Illinois.

Somewhat shadowed by all this non-league skirmishing, is the Indiana at Northwestern contest which launches the Big Ten championship campaign. The Wildcats are a touchdown choice to defeat the Hoosiers for the eighth straight time. Both teams had humiliating season starts, Northwestern being pounded 43-7 by Florida and Indiana bowing 20-10 to Miami of Ohio.

Favored By 6

Ohio State is favored by six points over the Horned Frogs, who held powerful Nebraska to a 14-10 decision. Michigan State, 28-10 winner over North Carolina State, is a whopping 19 point choice over Penn State's Nittany Lions, who dumped Maryland 15-7.

Michigan, after blasting Oregon State 41-0, is ranked 10 points ahead of the California Bears, who buried Washington State 21-6.

Notre Dame, with a pair of untested rookie quarterbacks, is a touchdown pick over Purdue, masterminded by veteran Bob Griese who guided the Boilers over Ohio University 42-3. Wisconsin, a 20-10 victor over Iowa State, is a 16-point underdog at the home of the Trojans, who edged Texas 10-6.

Stanford, who downed San Jose State 25-21, is a three-point selection over the Gophers, who were trampled 24-0 by Missouri.

Despite Missouri's impressive triumph, the Tigers are no more than a toss-up against the Illinois, who were ambushed by Southern Methodist 26-7. And although Oregon State was blitzed by Michigan, it also is rated even against the Iowa Hawkeyes, who showed signs of awakening with a 31-20 victory over Arizona.

Youngsters between the ages up.

'Wildest Ever' Claims AL Champions' Manager

Baltimore '9' Stages 2-Hour Celebration

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — "It's great, but it's a good thing, it only happens once a year."

That was the cryptic comment from weary third baseman Brooks Robinson when a raucous two-hour clubhouse party came to an end as the Baltimore Orioles celebrated their first American League pennant. "I was on nine pennants with the New York Yankees but this is the wildest celebration I ever saw," said Manager Hank Bauer.

"But this one means more to me than the others because I was manager."

After Russ Snyder made a diving catch in left center field for the final out Thursday as Jim Palmer beat Kansas City 6-1, the Orioles trooped into the clubhouse and the party was under way.

Corks on champagne bottles began popping amid screams and shouts.

Thrown Into Showers

Everyone within sight, including Orioles Board Chairman Jerold C. Hoffberger, was either thrown into the showers or doused with champagne, beer, shaving cream, milk, pickles, mustard or a variety of other food set out on a table in the clubhouse.

"I'll tell you one thing," Robinson said, "it's better being on top than in sixth place"—referring to the current standing of the Reds.

Hoffberger, in a rare display of effrontery, called DeWitt in Cincinnati at the height of the celebration.

"Years ago when I saw you at a baseball meeting," Hoffberger said, "I knew you were going to help me... and you did. I really want to thank you and I appreciate everything you've done for us."

"Ask him if he has any more players like Robinson," Bauer said.

Curt Blefary, a 23-year-old outfielder in his second major league season, perhaps had the explanation. "I haven't had a good night's sleep in a month and a half...tossing and turning and worrying all night," Blefary said. "We've been tense despite our big lead because we've got so many young players on this club."

"Hands Were Shaking"

"In Thursday's game, I was so excited my hands were shaking. I was paying almost as much attention to the game in Detroit as I was our own game. The guys in our bullpen had the Tigers' game on the radio and kept telling us the score."

Detroit lost to California 5-3 just before the Baltimore game ended. "There's never been a party like this one," Blefary said. "And you know what? We might have five more like this in a row."

Bauer, in his third season as Orioles' manager, captured the pennant after leading the team to a pair of third-place finishes.

Sept. 27—Kimberly and Denmark. Oct. 4—Shiochon. Oct. 7—At Wisconsin. Oct. 11—At Shiochon. Oct. 13—Reedsville. Oct. 17—Seymour.

National Club Week Starts Saturday

Scope of 4-H Program Expanded; Urban Clubs Develop

BY WILLIAM SHAW
Outagamie County 4-H Club Agent

National 4-H Club Week will be observed throughout the United States Saturday-Oct. 1. The theme for this event this year is "4-H Learning for Living."

The 4-H program has been marked by change since its inception more than 60 years ago. Greater variety of educational projects, more emphasis on the improvement of the boy and girl and a program with appeal for young persons, are some of the changes the agent pointed out.

A recent but no less important change is the demand for 4-H in towns and cities across the country. More than 77 per cent of its members reside in rural areas, nearly a half million 4-H members now live in towns and cities of 2,500 or more.

A decade ago, 86.5 per cent lived on farms and in rural areas and 13.5 per cent in urban areas.

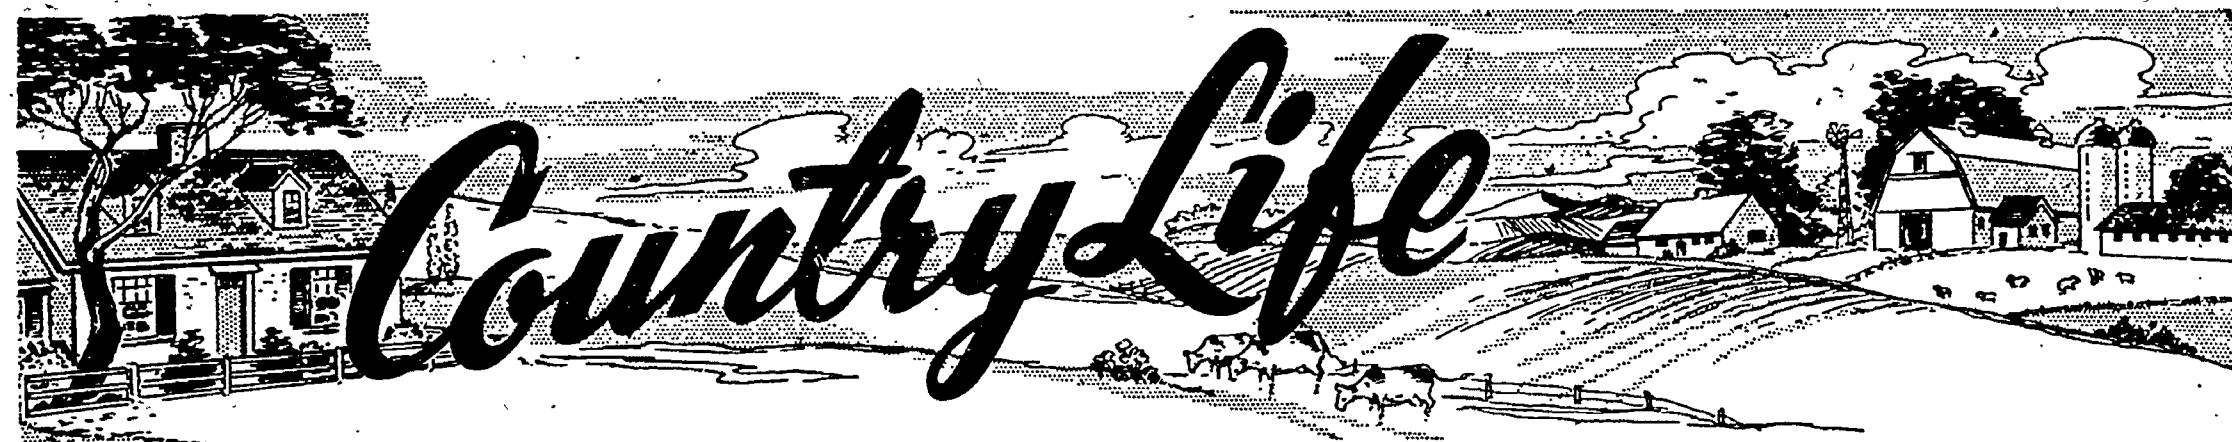

To meet the changing needs of youth, 4-H has increased its educational projects and opportunities. Among the new offerings are: automotive care and safety, home management, personality development, conservation, horse, dog care and obedience and community beautification.

These are being supplemented with intensified activities of career exploration, science, health, nutrition, recreation, public speaking and safety. For the young person with suitable facilities, the proven standard projects are highly recommended.

With these young people, 4-

H is a way of life. For boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, 4-H offers opportunities to develop wholesome character and leadership. They learn to work together and share responsibility. Four-Hers explore career opportunities while gaining knowledge

Black Creek Farmer Buys Jamison Cow

Top Guernsey at Reedsville Sale Brings $505

REEDSVILLE — Purebred Guernsey cattle strains from the herd of the Jamison Brothers of Appleton will be continued by a Black Creek dairyman who paid the top price for one at Saturday's sale here at the Equity Market.

LaVerne Wehrman, an officer of the Outagamie County Guernsey Breeders Association, paid $505 for a Guernsey cow which grades "Wisconsin Preferred."

The Jamison name in Outagamie County for many years was recognized as one of the original and best herds of purebred Guernsey cattle in the region.

A total of 20 animals from the owner-sampler herd were sold. Morris Bradley, Fort Atkinson, was contending bidder on the top cow and purchased two second high animals from the Jamison herd for $480 each. One of them graded "Wisconsin Preferred DHIA" and the other "Wisconsin Superior DHIA." "Wisconsin Preferred" Guernsey cows that were registered and had DHIA records averaged $270 per head.

Next graded dairy sale is today at the Ripon Equity Market. A total of 150 Holsteins are consigned. Future sales will be Oct. 8 and 29 at Bonduel and Altoona Oct. 15.

Additional information concerning them may be obtained from Badger Breeders Co-op, Shawano, or any of the Equity sales offices.

Rural Rockets Planning Chilton Window Show

CHILTON — Members of the Rural Rockets 4-H Club here discussed their window display and named a committee to prepare it.

Proceeds from sales of the all occasion cards are due at the October meeting.

Betcha I Got More freckles than you, says Brian Lee, a third grader at Erwin School in Birmingham, Ala., as he holds onto a pumpkin near his home today. The freckles sprouted when Brian was exposed to the summer sun. Now, with summer waning, he's apparently looking forward to Thanksgiving and less freckles. (AP Wirephoto)

Outagamie's Top 10 Leaders Donate 220 Years to 4-H

SEYMOUR — Outagamie County will honor its adult 4-H leaders at the annual dinner of the 4-H Leaders Association Monday Night at Pine Castle, four miles south of here.

Collectively they have donated 220 years and averaged 22 years. The county's top 10 leaders in terms of years of service are headed by Mrs. Ernest Schuster of the Seymour 4-H Club. She has contributed 37 years to the program.

Mrs. Herbert Stingle of the Fairview Club will be recognized for 31 years service. Leaders of the Wide Awake 4-H Club, Mrs. Reinhard Sommers and Robert Techlin, have put in 21 and 22 years respectively.

Leaders from three other clubs have 19 years to their credit. They are Wilbert Hob, B-Square; Orville Hanschke, Busy Badgers; and Mrs. Elmer Root, Ellington.

Mrs. Root's husband, Elmer, has been a leader of the same club for 18 years.

Mrs. William Young, Chief Shiock Club, and Carlton Sievert, Golden Rule, have been leaders in the county for 17 years.

Teachers Prompted Conservation Spirit

Field Class To Open in Outagamie

When the sixth annual conservation field days start here next week it will be a successful renewal of suggestions from Appleton school teachers who prompted its formation.

Russell Luckow, Outagamie County agricultural agent, explained that before the field school was organized the extension agents received numerous requests from teachers for assistance in an outdoor conservation program.

No single site was available at the time until agents collected their heads and approached Bruce Purdy, owner of the Apple Hill Beef Farm at Apple Creek north of Appleton.

The Apple Creek site has been developed to offer a wide variety of practical applications of conservation in its many forms from protecting wildlife to preserving the soils.

Opens Tuesday

The field school this year opens Tuesday and runs for four days. Appleton sixth graders will be processed through the course in the morning sessions.

Pupils and parochial schools throughout the county will attend. About 2,300 are expected. They will be taught in groups of about 30 at eight stations on the farm. Subjects will include soils, tree planting, pond management, plant life, crops, soil conservation practices, waterways and stripcropping.

Luckow said the course is only intended as spark to ignite further study by the pupils about things they have learned.

District and county agricultural and conservation agency representatives will teach at the stations.

Soil Survey Complete for Calumet Town of Harrison

CHILTON — The Calumet portion of the Fox River Valley Regional Planning Commission's soil survey has been completed including all of the Town of Harrison.

The soil survey work was done by soil scientists from the district office of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service (SCS). It includes listing the soil type, slope and amount of erosion for every acre in the town, according to Soil Conservationist Bruno Zucollo.

These maps are used by planning commissions to plan future locations of roads, parks, housing areas, industrial developments, and many other activities. The maps are used in many counties for zoning purposes.

17 Years

Soil surveys have been made in the county for individual land owners for the last 17 years.

The total land area of Calumet County is listed at 201,600 acres. Of this, a total of 141,542 acres have been surveyed to date.

This amounts to about 71 per cent of the county.

It has been estimated by area soil scientists, Burel Butman and Ernie Link that it will require about 300 man days to complete the survey for Calumet County.

Offer 34 Head for Boar Sale

CHILTON — Thirty four head of six breeds have been consigned to the Northeastern Wisconsin Boar and Gilt Sale at Calumet Arena here Wednesday evening, Oct. 5.

Twenty-eight boars and seven open gilts make up the consignments coming from some of the leading herds in Wisconsin. No separate testing station sales will be held in the local area. All production tested stock will be funneled through established sales such as the above.

Breeds to be offered in the sale are Chester Whites, Durocs, Spotted Poles and Yorkshires. Catalogs for the sale may be obtained from the various county extension offices in the area.

Tractor Pulling Test at Center Valley Sunday

A tractor pulling contest is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday at Center Valley in the Town of Center, Outagamie County.

Entries will be accepted from throughout the valley.

Weighing-in will be conducted from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Five classes are on the agenda: 0-4,500 pounds; 4,500-5,000; 5,000-6,000; 6,000-8,000; 8,000-10,000 and 10,000-12,000.

Tree Prices To Continue Unchanged

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Farmers and other land owners interested in forestry need not worry about price inflation in making their plans for 1967 tree planting.

The state conservation commission has announced that it will maintain current prices on nursery stock produced for cooperating land-owners through the 1967 season.

Village Adds Four Streets to Official Map

Deny Petition for Permission to Plant Trees in Terraces

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night voted to add four streets in the community to the official village map thus increasing street mileage in the community which will add to state aid receipts.

Streets now officially open to traffic include 495 feet of Charles Street, 550 feet of Meadow Lane off Riverside Drive, 1,096 feet of Hayes Street between E. Main Street and Riverside Drive and a 310 foot street off Riverside Drive, temporarily designated as "A" Street.

Board members denied a request from residents of Depot Street who asked to plant trees on the terraces of the street, indicating recent road widening made terraces too narrow and tree planting could result in root damage to curb and gutters.

Action on a request from the Kaukauna Electric and Water Department to erect a 75-foot steel tower at the south end of Buchanan Street to carry a high level line from the village to Combined Locks was postponed until the village president returns from vacation.

Stop Signs on Village Streets To be Removed

KIMBERLY — Motorists using First, Second or Willow Streets in the village have been urged to use caution as two stop signs formerly located on intersections have been ordered removed by the village board, according to Eugene Hietpas, street department.

Residents of Willow Street complained about their street being used as a raceway which led to an investigation by the village board. Stop signs were previously located on First at Willow and on Second at Willow.

Since residents of First and Second Streets have also complained about speeding on these streets, board members felt removal of all traffic controls would slow down traffic in all directions as motorists realize they are approaching an unmarked intersection.

Since the stop signs have been in place many years and most drivers have become accustomed to the traffic controls, motorists should use extreme caution particularly at these intersections, noted Hietpas.

$4.1 Billion Works Bill Okayed in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sent to the Senate by a lopsided vote Wednesday a bill to appropriate $4.1 billion to finance several hundred pet public works projects throughout the country. The bill was passed 354 to 25 after 17 attempts to cut the funds were shouted down.

Court Levies Fines Against Traffic Violators

Two young Fox Cities men were found guilty of a total of three traffic charges following a trial Wednesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. A charge against one of the men was dismissed.

James Mariman, 22, 16½ Sherman Place, Appleton, was fined $25 and costs or 12 days in jail after he was found guilty of speeding on N. Oneida Street.

Appleton police arrested the men last February. Police testified Wednesday that cars driven by Mariman and Rosenthal were first seen traveling at a high rate of speed on N. Oneida Street. Police contended that neither driver would pull to the side when red lights and a siren were being operated on a squad car. The trial was without a jury.

Time to Check Your Furnace Fuel Tank — With birds flocking for flight to the south and nightly temperatures dropping into the chilly zone, it is time for filling the fuel oil tank for those cold days ahead. Shown is one of the modern fleet of trucks operated by the Jenkel Oil Co. They assure each customer of speedy oil delivery service, along with convenient metered service that provides a printed receipt that shows accurate amount delivered. (Adv.)

You won't get nipped by cold weather if you fill your furnace fuel oil tank now. Take the worry out of winter heating by calling the Jenkel Oil Company.

distributors of Skelly furnace oil with SK-12 Additive.

Even though the special additive SK-12 costs you nothing extra, it can keep your entire fuel system free of the harmful formation of rust, gum, sludge that cause most sudden furnace failures.

Since the fuel pipe in your furnace ends in an opening no bigger than a pin point, even a tiny particle of sludge or gum can clog your furnace burner.

With SK-12, in Skelly furnace oil you can prevent most cases of sudden stoppage due to a clogged nozzle, filter screen or fuel line.

You can obtain Skelly furnace

Oil, with SK-12 additive, from the Jenkel Oil Co., 1201 N. Badger Ave. Phone number of the firm is 739-1144. Emergency service — in case you run out of oil — may be obtained by calling 733-9584.

A good furnace deserves a good fuel to operate at peak efficiency, no matter how low the temperature drops. Call Jenkel Oil for the best. (Advertisement)

Pallet Knife Paintings—Ray Oakvick, noted pallet knife artist, is demonstrating his skills at the Valley Fair shopping center tonight and through Saturday. The artist has a unique, speedy style and a number of his paintings similar to those shown here are on exhibit in the enclosed mall. Valley Fair is busy with exciting activities, including its Fall Opening this weekend. Voting will begin Saturday in the baby photo contest. The public is invited to participate in picking the winners in three different divisions. Youngsters will be interested in the Tip Top amusement rides. A special coupon offer may be found in Wednesday's Post-Crescent. The Fox River Valley Rabbit Breeders association show is being held from 10 to 5 on Saturday. (Adv.)

Hamm's Introduced Draft Beer in Fox Cities

Hamm's real draft beer in the 12-ounce, seamless, all-aluminum cans, all-aluminum can is exclusive the first perfect take-home draft beer six-pack, is soon to be available in The Fox Cities according to Leonard L. Johnson, Hamm's vice president-marketing.

"We know from extensive research and consumer surveys that beer drinkers will appreciate the value of draft beer in a perfect draft beer container. The all-aluminum can not only keeps our draft beer at the peak of its flavor much longer than conventional packages but its opaque qualities protect the beer from another enemy — light," Mr. Johnson said.

He said Hamm's had used all-aluminum kegs for draft beer for many years "because aluminum actually protects the delicate flavor of draft beer." Mr. Johnson said, "Hamm's the Hamm's "crown" emblem, and furthermore, these beautiful cans will be packaged in a new attractive aluminum foil six-pack, another packing first.

The Post-Crescent has been selected to carry the introductory campaign for Hamm's Draft Beer. (Advertisement)

The Gordon Vande Hey, Jr. and Sr., check on progress during corn harvesting on their Town of Harrison (Calumet County) farm. They have constructed a new steel barn which has been mistaken for a number of things including a tavern by one salesman. It will replace the barn on the farm of Gordon Jr., which was purchased by the State Highway Department for future expansion of U.S. 10 south of Appleton. The new facility will house 60 dairy cows when completed. Pattern of light shining in the window and reflected on the floor indicates good ventilation. (Post-Crescent Photos by Pat Duffey)

Harrison Farmers Go for 'Moon' In Planning Major Improvement

HARRISON — It's not every day that a farmer gets a chance to go for the "moon" in planning a major improvement for his farm, but that's just what Gordon Vande Hey has done.

Vande Hey operates a 184-acre farm with his son, Gordon Jr., near the intersection of U.D. 10 and State 114 just south of Appleton.

More than a year ago the state began making motions toward eventually purchasing the farm on which young Gordon lives. The sale was finalized this spring. It eventually will be used for construction of the second lane of the highway.

The highway was partially expanded this summer. The Vande Hey's were told earlier they had to vacate by June but then asked for an extension until September. Since then there has been no word from the state.

Steel Barn
The Vande Hey's, to meet future needs, purchased a $43,000 steel barn and accompanying 20 by 60 foot silo, pipeline milking system and 500-gallon capacity milk storage tank suitable for alternate day pickup.

Work on the new structure, located between the home farm and the "state farm" began in April. The Vande Hey's did much of the work themselves. Gordon Sr. said that despite the high cost of the structure he expects to be able to realize his investment cost through a more efficient operation.

The 40 by 112 foot barn on the farm the state purchased ironically was built in 1958. Gordon Sr. has farmed the Calumet County land since purchasing the home 62-acre farm in 1941.

Pleasant Contrast
The new barn is a massive site. The 40 by 160 foot light green structure presents a pleasant contrast to the eye of motorists travelling along the nearby highway. Work on it should be complete in about a week, Vande Hey said.

Both Vande Hey and his son

Bear Creek FFA Conducts Cattle Herd Testing

BEAR CREEK — Twenty Future Farmers of America (FFA) members are currently in the cattle herd testing program of the agriculture class at the Bear Creek High School. Members of the freshman class will begin working with the group in November.

The Schain detergent test is currently being used, according to instructor John Siedschlag. Anyone in the Bear Creek area may have their herd tested by the students without charge by moving to the Harrison farm.

Former 4-H Members Might Not Recognize Changing Program

BY CHARLES P. NIKOLAI
Calumet 4-H Agent

Many former 4-H club members could not recognize 4-H club work today. As with everything else in the world, 4-H is also rapidly changing.

Some projects and activities are dropped when they are no longer beneficial to most people. Others are added as they become more important.

New projects include baby-sitting, photography, automotive, dog care and training, plant science, and electronics. Roadside beautification began about six years ago and is now a federal program.

Richard Marx President Of On-the-Go 4-H Club

FREEDOM — Richard Marx was elected president of the On-the-Go 4-H Club at its September meeting.

Others elected were Dennis Van Vreede, vice president; Diane Marx, secretary; Peter Van Wyche, treasurer; Donna Marx, reporter; and Dean Van Vreede, Jim and Mark Newhouse, sergeants-at-arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Smudde will be main leaders. The club is planning to take a trip to the Brown County Arena for the Holiday on Ice Show.

Many present projects have been changed considerably. The food preservation project used to include smoking and drying meat and fruit and home canning. Today food preservation is primarily home freezing, with some canning and almost no smoking, drying, or curing in salt brine.

Land Grant Colleges
Nationally 4-H club work is in the USDA, one division of the Department of Agriculture in the Federal Extension Service which works in all 50 states through the land grant colleges.

In Wisconsin the land grant college is the university at Madison. Until 1966 the Extension Service was administered through the College of Agriculture. The majority of the state staff specialists are in the College of Agriculture and school of Home Economics.

In 1966 the Cooperative Extension Service, General Extension, and the university radio and television stations were merged into one university extension system.

Many specialists are now working in 4-H from the school of education, commerce, rebe main leaders. The club is planning to take a trip to the Brown County Arena for the Holiday on Ice Show.

necessary at the state level for assistance.

State Administration
The state has several people employed who work directly in 4-H or help administer it. The state 4-H leader is Prof. Frank Campbell. Assistant leaders have responsibilities in specific categories.

District Extension Leader for North East Wisconsin is Prof. Oscar Woelfel, a former resident of Calumet County and a Chilton High School graduate. Working with him on the district team is Florence Rann in home economics programs and Eldora Keske in 4-H programs.

Chancellors Henry Ahlgren and Don McNeil work directly with university president, Fred Harrington, on state and county 4-H club administration.

Project training, club activities, and county programs are handled by local volunteer people and the county extension staff.

Co-Op Locals Schedule Area Meetings

Dairy farmers in the Fox River Valley and New London locals of Pure Milk Products Co-Operative at Fond du Lac will meet next week.

The Fox Valley unit will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the South Greenville Grange Hall while the New London group will meet at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at the American Legion Clubhouse there.

Arnold Coonen, route 3, Kaukauna is current president of the Fox Valley group while Fred B. Larson, route 1, Weyauwega, heads the New London local.

District directors Larson and Henry Kirk will report to their respective memberships on the co-op's activities during the past fiscal year.

Delegates will be picked for the 37th annual co-op meeting at Fond du Lac Oct. 25.

State Snares 12 Firsts With Dairy Products

Wisconsin Cattle Produce 19 Billion Pounds of Milk

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's two million dairy cows produced more than 19 billion pounds of milk in 1965—15 percent of the nation's production—and gave the Badger state 12 first places in manufactured dairy products.

Figures given by the State U.S. Agricultural Reporting Service today showed that about three-fourths of the milk output went into manufactured products.

Wisconsin ranked first in the production of six types of cheese — American, munster, brick, limburger, Italian and blue mold.

It topped all other states in output of condensed sweetened whole, sweetened skim and unsweetened skim milk.

In dry products it was first in whey and malted milk powder. Wisconsin was second in the production of butter, Swiss cheese and buttermilk.

State Milk Market Areas Set Prices

Fees From Class B Slightly Lower Than Class A

Milk prices to be paid farmers for Grade A milk delivered in August, 1966 in three Wisconsin federal milk marketing areas have been announced, according to Pure Milk Products Co-operative.

The Madison area gross blend price was $4.71 or 10.13 cents per quart. The price charged dealers for milk used as bottled Class I was $4.89 per hundredweight or 10.50 cents per quart. A total of 69 per cent of the milk received in the Madison federal order area was used as Class I.

The Milwaukee market area gross weighted average minimum producer price was $4.65 per cwt. or 10 cents per quart. Farmers values were figured on the basis of $4.89 per cwt. or 10.50 cents per quart for milk used as Class I fluid bottled milk and milk products and $4.26

26 per cwt. Class II manufactured uses.

The Northeast Wisconsin market area gross producer minimum price was $4.61 per cwt. or 9.91 cents per quart. That portion of deliveries sold as Class I bottled milk was priced at $4.75 or 10.13 cents per quart. Class II milk used in manufactured products was valued at $4.26.

The Chicago (non-order) gross blend price for 3.5 per cent milk is reported at $4.70 per cwt. or 10.1 cents per quart F.O.B. the market. Prices charged dealers for milk for bottling use ranged from $4.92 to $5.01 per cwt.

Manufactured Grade B milk producers during the first half of August were paid an average of $4.22 per cwt. for 3.5 per cent milk marketed in cans. This is a gross price of 9.07 cents per qt. for the non-bottling Grade B milk. The average price paid to bulk tank producers on B markets was $4.41 per cwt. or a gross price of 9.48 cents per quart.

Hauling and marketing services charges are paid by the farmer out of all the foregoing quotations, with such amounting to ¼ cent to ½ cent per quart or 10 to 25 cents per cwt.

August milk production in Wisconsin totaled 1,396 million pounds, a seasonal decline of 11 per cent from July and 2 per cent below August 1965. For a period of one year, milk production in Wisconsin has been under the level of a year earlier.

Production per cow averaged 700 pounds in August or 10 pounds more than the same month last year. In the first eight months of this year, Wisconsin's milk production is 5 per cent below the comparable period of 1965.

Milk output in U.S. during August is estimated at 9,799 million pounds, or about 2 per cent below year earlier and smallest August production since 1939.

Russell Luckow, Outagamie County agricultural agent, and Leonard Warner, vocational-agriculture instructor at the Appleton Vocational School, set up signs for the corn plot on the Gerald Van Asten farm east of Kaukauna in preparation for the Oct. 3 field day. ## ASC Seeks Committeeman Nominations

Outagamie Election Of Community Units Slated for Oct. 1

Slates of nominees for membership on ASC community committees now are being established at the ASCS county office, according to Bert Weyenberg, Outagamie County committee chairman.

"The committee system is the backbone of farm programs," the Chairman declared. "Its responsibilities include the conservation of natural resources, the stabilization of agricultural commodities, and price-support activities which protect and improve farm income. We need the best possible cross-section of farmers to insure effective administration of the various measures."

In Outagamie County, Mr. Weyenberg said, 1,700 farmers took part last year in one or more programs administered by the ASC committees. Funds disbursed under the committee's supervision amounted to $1,168,000. Of this amount, $300,600 was for price-support loans aimed at increasing market returns above what farmers would receive on an unsupported market.

50,300 Acres Aided Last year, 50,000 acres of farmland were improved under the Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing arrangement. The total investment in conservation was about $232,000, with about half coming from the participating farmer and the balance from ACP.

Any local resident who is eligible to take part in an ASCS farm program may vote, and he may hold office as a committeeman regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Farmers who are eligible to vote in the community committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, each one nominating one farmer and signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed now at the county office.

Seek Swine Consignments

Production Testing Conducted at Hortonville Station

Consignments to the Northeast Wisconsin Swine Testing Station at Hortonville are now being received. Consignments to the production testing station will be on a first come first serve basis.

Consignors, in order to have a pen reserved, must enclose a $25 service fee. George Cuff again will manage the station. A pen or pigs is two litter-mates either gilts or barrows and weighing 45 - 65 pounds each. The remaining $20 pen service fee is paid at time of delivering the pigs to the station. Pigs are then fed to 200 pounds at which time they go to slaughter and cut outs figured on them.

If requirements are met, the balance of the litter is then certified plus certification of the sire. This is the information so urgently needed today in the swine business.

For instance, take the Mertz Hampshire Herd in Rantoul. This herd produced the grand champion market hog at the show at Calumet County Fair. This barrow weighed 247 pounds yet had only 1.3 inches of back fat. Lean meat in the pork chop or loin eye was 6.1 square inches. The carcass was 31.2 inches long. This the result of production testing. Visitors are welcome at the Testing Station.

Beef Sale Set Oct. 1

Bonduel Auction To be First of Three for Season

SHAWANO — The Northeast Wisconsin Beef Producers Association will hold three feeder cattle sales this fall. The first sale will be October 1 at the Equity Livestock Auction Market at Bonduel. This sale will include straight bred beef cattle and crossbreds. No dairy bred steers will be sold.

The second sale, October 22, will feature only Holstein steers and crossbred steers.

The last sale will be held November 5 and will have both crossbred and straightbred feeder cattle of beef breeds. No dairy bred steers will be sold.

The reason for having all the Holstein steers in the October 22 sale is to have larger numbers at one time. This will attract more buyers for this type feeder cattle. Cattle will be offered in larger, more uniform lots and should bring a better price than having just a few head at each sale, according to Norman Sawyer, Shawano County agricultural agent.

Consignments due now for the Oct. 1 sale, will be accepted from all farmers in northeastern Wisconsin.

Always Onward Officers Picked

They are Ron Van Handel, president; John Paltzer, vice-president; Dennis Van Handel, treasurer; Susan Van Handel, historian; Jean Schmeichel, secretary; Kathy Baumann, reporter; Ken Van Handel and Steve Schmeichel, sergeant-at-arms.

Committees for the year are: demonstration — John Paltzer, Ken Van Handel, Jake Paltzer, and Laurie Van Handel; safety — Mike Smits, Steve Schmeichel, Lynn Peterson, Linda Baumann and Herbert Klarner; health — Mary Ann Klarner, Steve Petersch, Susan Van Handel, Gary Pilgrim and Herbert Klarner. ## PMA Sets Pool Price

Class I Milk To Bring $5.22 Per Hundredweight

All dairy farmers participating in Pure Milk Association's milk pooling program for the Chicago market will be paid $5.22 per hundredweight for Class I (bottled) milk beginning with Monday deliveries, according to A. L. McWilliams, PMA general manager.

The $5.22 Class I price is 21 cents per hundredweight higher than the $5.01 dealers will pay producers for Class I milk for the first 18 days of September.

Under the PMA Chicago market pool program, producers in the pool are paid a blended price on three classifications of milk — Class I, Class II and Class III. The September price of Class II milk used primarily in making cottage cheese will be the Wisconsin-Minnesota manufacturing milk price of $4.26 per hundredweight — the average price for August deliveries of milk used for manufacturing purposes. The September Class III price, which includes milk used primarily in making butter, cheese, nonfat dry milk and ice cream mix, will be the average price paid producers delivering Grade B milk to eight dairy manufacturing plants in Wisconsin and Illinois. This price will be announced October 5.

Dairy Cattle Congress To Feature Rodeo, Meat Animal Show

WATERLOO, Iowa — Cowboys will ride and rope for an estimated $4,800 in purse money and entry fees Friday through Sunday, Sept. 30-Oct. 2, during Waterloo's annual National Dairy Cattle Congress Rodeo.

The Cattle Congress runs from Sept. 24 through Oct. 2. Other attractions include an outstanding dairy cattle show from Sept. 24-28, followed by the Waterloo Meat Animal Show from Sept. 29-Oct. 2, over 900 horses and ponies, and a huge farm machinery show.

Bee Health Chilton Topic

Calumet Association To Hear Report on Disease Control

CHILTON — Calumet County Beekeepers will have their annual fall meeting Monday evening in the assembly room of the Courthouse.

On the program will be Oscar Schachtschneider, area bee inspector. Schachtschneider will report to beekeepers on the health status of our bees. Calumet County beekeepers for the past 10 years have been carrying on a Foulbrood Disease control program. Whether or not it will be continued will be decided upon at the meeting.

On the program will be Alfred Haltiner who spent last winter beekeeping in the Florida Orange Groves. He will again bring the orange blossom honey for the refreshments that follow the meeting.

County Agent Orrin Meyer will conduct his usual panel on honey flow and problems of beekeeping.

Top 4-H Rabbit Project Members Attend Show

Outagamie County's four top 4-H members who achieved in the rabbit project attended a weekend state 4-H rabbit show at Fort Atkinson.

The group, sponsored by the Club, consisted of Paul Jurgens, Woodland Mustlers; Krystal Kaddatz, Clover Leaf; Larry Wussow, Cicero Busy Bees, and Roy Kortz, Nitingale.

They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Fehrman of Appleton. Fehrman is the county key 4-H leader in the rabbit project.

Junior Leader Activities Set For Calumet

Gregory Kozlowski Advances to Head 4-H Association

CHILTON — An exciting, educating, fun-filled year has been planned by the Calumet County 4-H Junior Leaders Association. The annual meeting last week produced the most energetic calendar of events ever proposed by the group, according to Charles Nikolai, Calumet County 4-H agent.

President-elect Gregory Kozlowski was vice president in 1966 and has been an active junior leader for two years in the Sherwood Wide Awake Club. Also elected from the Sherwood Wide Awake Club is Lois Mader, reporter.

Secretary-elect Ellen Hopfensperger from the Darboy Ever Alert West. Club served as a club officer and has been a member for seven years.

Ritalyn Krueger, Friendly Valley Club was elected vice-president. Treasurer Mary Koehler of the Chilton Tip Top Club has been a member six years.

A hayride and junior leader enrollment are planned for October's program. November will feature a roller skating party. A three-day training workshop and skills that will be useful throughout life. But perhaps most important of all, 4-H members grow stronger together, learning to be responsible citizens and competent leaders.

Three Levels

Through a unique organizational structure, 4-H is cooperatively sponsored by the Extension Service at three levels of government. It is carried on at the county level by professional extension agents and a corps of volunteer leaders and advisers. State-wide, the 4-H program draws upon the state land-grant university for educational resources and direction.

Nationally, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, administers the program as the youth phase of the extension service. Professional workers at all levels work with a half-million volunteer adult and junior leaders in constantly adjusting the 4-H program to serve the interests and needs of youth.

The 4-H project, a highly successful educational method, is made more interesting with complementing activities. These offer variety to all boys and girls, whether they live in the country, suburbs, or the city. Some of the most popular areas are: family living, personal development, home management, conservation, engineering, house and community beautification.

Boys and girls value their 4-H training as they participate in school, church and community groups and activities. Their lives are enriched by having found that lucky four leaf clover with the four "H's."

Police on Lockout For Stolen Onions

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Police have been asked to keep an eye out for someone trying to peddle "hot" onions.

An onion farmer in southwest New Mexico, Carmen Pacheco of Deming, said 27,000 sacks of onions valued at $54,000 were stolen from his fields.

A representative of the firm which has underwritten Pacheco's onion crop, said he suspects the thieves made three or four trips weekly to Albuquerque markets to sell the contraband onions.

Arlington Farm Researchers Seek Improved Wisconsin Beef Breed

Hope to Develop Milder Characteristics Than Western Cattle; More Offsprings

ARLINGTON — Researchers here at the University of Wisconsin experimental farm are attempting to develop a new breed of beef cattle that are more suitable to the state.

Ed Hauser from the university's dairy science department, who is conducting the research in special facilities here, explained that present beef cattle are accustomed to roaming the Western ranges which are not available in Wisconsin.

The state, however, does offer top quality feed for its herds. Hauser also explained that they are seeking to replace the "wild" characteristics of the Western beef cattle.

Current work is with Charolais, Herefords and Shorthorns. Hauser said they are attempting to develop an animal with less outside fat, more loin area.

Crossbreeding Results
Half of the shorthorn herd was cross bred to Charolais bulls and the others to Shorthorn bulls. The six-year program showed that the cross-bred calves were 100 pounds heavier at weaning than the Shorthorn calves which were 200 pounds heavier at 420 days.

They produced a larger calf at birth and it ate 200 pounds more feed during a testing period than its shorthorn equivalent.

Hauser said they were aiming to produce an animal which would be a third of a grade lower but be 25 per cent larger in size.

Jaycees at Appleton Seek OYF

The Appleton Jaycees have named their chairman for the 1966 Outstanding Young Farmer Award program.

He is Gerald B. Fisher, special agent with the rural insurance companies of Appleton. Assisting him in the ninth annual program will be John Hanson and Peter Kessler.

This is the 11th year of the national program. Local co-sponsor with the Jaycees is the Appleton Appliance Co.

The Jaycees under Fisher's direction will interview farmers between the ages of 21 and 35. From their reports, judges will select the winner. The winner will be announced at the Nov. 1 award banquet.

The local winner will compete in the state finals also being staged in Appleton Dec. 2.

Gary Ver Voort Valley President

KAUKAUNA — Gary Ver Voort was elected president of the Valley 4-H Club at its September meeting in the Town of Vanden Broek hall.

Others elected were Judy Van Groll, vice president; Richard Spierings, secretary; Donna Spierings, treasurer; Janice Van Groll, reporter.

They will be installed at the Oct. 5 meeting.

In a related study, Hauser with assistance of graduate students from the university, has been milking Hereford cows once a week. The resulting 800 pounds in 240 days confirms the general view that beef cows make poor dairy animals.

Milking Ability

Hauser contended that the milking ability of beef cows could be improved through crossbreeding.

Beef cows produce only one calf a year, he said, which is causing a bottleneck in attempts to gain more offsprings such as in dairy cattle.

By studying hormone mechanisms, Hauser said he wanted to determine if beef cows could develop two calves a year. He pointed out that gestation periods in sheep and sows are shorter and permit more offsprings.

Size of the beef cow is important, he pointed out. Bigger, more efficient cows are needed. Larger calves also produce more milk at an earlier age which affects later levels, he said.

Tony Skenadore Heads Woodland Rustlers 4-H

SEYMOUR — Tony Skenadore was elected to head the Woodland Rustlers 4-H Club during the September meeting at the Sunny Nook School.

Others elected were Jean Court, vice president; Sally Tubbs, secretary; June Karweick, treasurer; Steve Trost, sergeant-at-arms, and Barbara Abel, reporter.

Eleanor Tubbs and Paul Jurgens told of various activities in which they participated at the state fair this summer. Richard Moeller gave a demonstration on training a dog. Lon Kollath and Debbie Schroeder, Eleanor Tubbs, and Robert Gosse gave speeches at the meeting.

Darboy 4-H Members Give Demonstrations

DARBOY — Demonstrations were given by Jean and Patti Mader, Christine Marx, Maria Van Thiel and Sue Stumpf at the monthly meeting of the East division of the Ever Alert 4-H Club.

Assigned to the window display committee were Mary Zuleger, Ann Stumpf and Patti Marx.

Sambs Brothers Win Ribbons at National Show

HORTONVILLE — Due to stiffer competition, the Sambs Brothers had to settle for lower than usual spots in the winner circles at the National Barrow Show in Austin, Minn., which ended last week.

Three Landrace pigs in the live barrow show won third in the lightweight division, 15th in medium weights and seventh in heavyweights. One animal placed in the carcass contest and results on it won't be known for about a week.

They showed nine hogs and placed seven.

Ten states competed in the contest. The top Landrace boar sold for $1,500, Hampshire $6,000, and Yorkshire $7,000.

Man Charged in Slaying Still Hospitalized

E. J. Kubitz Awaits Court Appearance on 1st Degree Murder

Authorities said this morning they still do not know when Edward J. Kubitz, 70, 1422 E. Wisconsin Ave., charged in the fatal shooting of his former daughter-in-law, will be released from Appleton Memorial Hospital.

The Appleton man is in the hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound in his left foot. He was hospitalized shortly after a shooting Sept. 11 which also resulted in the death of Mrs. Delores Kubitz, 32, divorcee and the mother of two young children.

Kubitz remains under 24-hour police guard. He will be arraigned on a first degree murder charge in Outagamie County Court immediately after his discharge from the hospital.

John Doe Hearing

The murder charge was brought Sept. 13 following a John Doe hearing in County Court Branch 2.

One official speculated today that Kubitz "probably will be in the hospital for some time yet." He reportedly is recovering satisfactorily from his wound which he told police he received as he was unloading a gun which accidentally discharged.

Mrs. Delores Kubitz, who lived just across the back yard from her ex-father-in-law, at 1419 E. Amelia St., was struck in the back with a single blast from a 12 gauge shotgun as she worked in a small garden behind her home about 7 p.m. Sept. 11.

Police believe the shot was fired from a second level window of the Edward Kubitz garage.

$11,000 Grant Received by Lawrence

Lawrence University is the recipient of an $11,000 grant from the National Science Foundation for a study of "Indigenous Economy and Society."

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, president, has announced. Dr. Harold K. Schneider, associate professor of anthropology, will direct the nine-month study while on sabbatical leave from his teaching duties at Lawrence. He will work on the campus and at the Deering Library in Evanston, Ill.

Under the grant, Dr. Schneider will further develop an already established model of indigenous African economy and society which he started about four years ago. His purpose is to explain several features of African society such as the role of livestock, marriage customs, incidence of divorce and lineage relationships. He also will analyze his findings in terms of new behavioral theories.

Dr. Schneider has made two field trips to Africa and has published several articles on his research. His monograph on "Turu Ecology: Habitat, Mode of Production and Society" appeared this summer in the journal "Africa," published by the Oxford University Press in England. Research for the article was done in the Singida district of Tanzania in 1959-60 under an earlier NSF grant.

Outagamie NFO May Sell Cows to Protest Prices

County President Sees Need for Farmer-Processor Cooperation

BEAR CREEK — The Outagamie County chapter of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) may protest low milk prices paid to farmers by selling their dairy cows or selling more milk through collection points where it is in greater demand and a better price is offered.

Larry Krusicki, Bear Creek, president of the Outagamie NFO, told members Tuesday night at Twelve Corners that the action may be necessary unless the cooperatives in the county work with the farmers and NFO.

Peter Bethke, dairy bargaining chairman of the Brown County NFO who also is associated with Nation Wide Milk Producers Inc., spoke on the need for cooperatives to work together in collective bargaining especially in the dairy industry.

Prices Raised Bethke said that milk prices in Ohio and Michigan had been raised substantially through the efforts of collective bargaining and cooperatives.

The NFO claims milk prices have gone up approximately four cents a quart to the consumer while the American dairy farmers, it says, has received only one cent of this increase.

Quota for the Outagamie

County unit in the cheese for servicemen in Viet Nam promotion was set at $1,000, the same as Waupaca County.

Theodore Kirchner, Shioto, was appointed chairman of the cheese promotion in Outagamie. A total of 30,000 pounds from national collections was sent during June and has since been followed by a second shipment.

Collect $200 The group expects to receive some assistance from businessmen and other interested persons to add to the $200 collected at Tuesday's meeting.

Captains for each town will be appointed to obtain cheese and the organization, "We Care," will package it. Orris Smith, Black Creek, explained the need for marketing arrangements and the urgent need for collective bargaining in American agriculture.

Next meeting of the Outagamie NFO will be Oct. 18 at Penning's Hall, 12 Corners.

Rummage Sale

At the Courthouse

Committee Named on County Parking Lot

A special committee to work with a city unit on plans for the purchase of property for an off-street parking lot near the courthouse was appointed by Outagamie County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler this morning.

The three supervisors named to the committee were Waldemar Klein, Patrick Mares and Andrew Jimos, all members of the county board's public property committee. Klein is committee chairman.

Named earlier to the special city committee were City Planner Walter Rasmussen, Ald. John Ayers (12th) and Willard Johnson, citizen member of the city's parking commission.

Esler said that steps would be taken to set up a joint meeting of the two special committees "as soon as possible."

At a city-committee meeting last week, officials agreed to jointly explore the possibilities of taking options on properties to be used for off-street parking and eventual tie-in with a proposed civic center near Jones Park.

The property the committee will consider is east of Elm Street, between Seventh and Eighth streets. There are about seven homes in the area.

Outagamie County officials maintain that expanded parking facilities must be obtained before any plan can be approved for remodeling or enlarging the courthouse.

At New London Park

Jaycees Plan Tree Planting Session

NEW LONDON — The Jaycees have scheduled a tree planting session for 1 p.m. Saturday at Pfeiffer Park.

James Smiley, chairman, will head a crew which will transplant trees from the Martin Blondevy property to the park. Blondevy will supervise the project.

The park, formerly a dump, has had few improvements other than the installation of three baseball fields and some playground equipment.

A shelter house costing $10,000 has been planned by the Jaycees.

Sam Shaw and George Plowman were authorized to investigate the possibility of restoring the public address system in the main business district.

Speaker System A number of loud speakers are located throughout the city, but must be rewired. A similar program was investigated by the Chamber of Commerce about a year ago.

Charles Borchardt will investigate the possibility of sponsoring teen dances during the winter months as a fund raising project. A committee will be named at the Oct. 13 meeting.

WWI Unit to Meet

CHILTON — Mayor Harry Thompson will speak at the World War I Barracks meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the city hall.

6 Officers Elected at Meeting Of New London Booster Club

NEW LONDON — Officers to head the recently formed New London Booster Club were elected during the organization's initial meeting Wednesday.

James Ehke was named chairman; Lawrence Graves, vice chairman; James Sheahan, treasurer, and Lew Wing, Arthur Yeager and Melvin Borchardt, directors.

Graves, head football coach at New London Senior High School, showed game films of the first two games of the season and commented on team and individual play.

Reaction of nearly all the players in any given situation has been excellent this year, Graves said. Graves stopped the films a number of times to illustrate the point.

The board will meet at the Franklin House at 7 p.m. Monday to discuss plans for the year.

Game films of the homecoming game with Clintonville at 7:30 p.m. Friday will be shown at the second meeting of the organization at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Ebert's Hall.

At Jericho Saturday

County ARC Officials To Attend Convention

Outagamie Association for Retarded Children (ARC) officers and committee chairmen will attend a full-day east central regional leadership training conference Saturday at Holy Trinity Catholic Church at Jericho.

The east central regional is one of six conferences sponsored annually by the Wisconsin Association for Retarded Children, Madison, for key personnel of its 65 membership associations throughout the state. All conferences are open to the public.

Sessions on local ARC leadership and planning, religious programming for the retarded, essentials for ARC publicity committees and newsletter editors, effective action in governmental affairs, staging effective membership campaigns and efficiency in the jobs of ARC treasurer, secretary and residential care chairman will be featured.

If the number interested warrants, Wisconsin ARC staff members will also conduct a special all-day basic session titled "Introduction to Mental Retardation and the ARC."

Reservations for the conference luncheon may be made by contacting the local president, Robert Eftedahl, 824 S. Kernan Ave.

Two Guilty Pleas End in Fines, Jail For 17-Year-Old

A 17-year-old Appleton youth who told police he had intended to run away was sentenced Wednesday afternoon to 10 days in jail. He also was fined $25 and costs or 12 more days in jail after he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and driving without a license.

Raymond Zuehlke, 311½ E. McKinley St., was arrested about 12:30 a.m. Wednesday after an Appleton patrolman noticed him driving in an erratic manner in the 1400 block of E. College Ave.

Police learned that the car belonged to the youth's landlady. Four bottles of beer were found in the car. Police said the car was taken without the owner's permission.

Zuehlke told authorities he had intended to pick up a friend about 2 a.m. He appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Youth Forfeits $18 For Discharging Gun

NEW LONDON — Robert L. Wangeline, 18, 1110 N. Water St., forfeited $18 in Municipal Justice Court Tuesday on a city police charge of discharging a spring driven BB gun within the city.

Wangeline was arrested near his home Aug. 30 following an incident with the gun.

Lack of Funds Delaying Federal Approval; Aspects of Program Outlined to Mayor, Aldermen

CHILTON — The city's proposed comprehensive planning program received endorsement from the state Wednesday when city officials met with representatives of the State Department of Resource Development and a Madison planning firm.

Emil Brandt, resource development representative, said it may take six months or more to receive federal approval which is necessary before actual work begins.

Brandt said the delay was caused because federal funds, earmarked for such programs, were depleted last winter. Only one program in the state has been approved in the past five months. Some programs have been delayed eight or nine months, he said. New funds are expected to be available soon.

The city seeks a program which will permit use of funds available through the federal 701 Act. If the project receives federal approval, the federal government will pay $11,000 of the estimated $16,500 cost.

The city will pay an additional $400 for official maps, $400 for city attorney and engineer services, $300 for bringing map contours down two feet to meet the federal requirement of five-foot contours and $100 for incidental expenses. Estimated cost to the city is $6,700 to be budgeted over a two-year period.

Brandt said costs might exceed the federal government limit, however the city could assume the additional $630 expense.

Planners Report According to the report prepared by Midwest Planning and Research Co., Madison, plans will be directed primarily toward thoroughfare networks, directionally controlled growth patterns and the role of the central business district. Once planning is underway, the resource development department keeps all financial records, progress reports and makes a follow-up report within two years after the plan is completed.

As proposed by Midwest, the plan will include four phases. The first includes a survey and analysis, base maps, land use survey, land use analysis, a study of the economic and historical background, population analysis, community facility analysis and a utility analysis.

Second Phase Phase two covers a policy statement and formation of goals and standards. This will be completed with the assistance of citizen's advisory groups.

The third phase covers the actual development of the comprehensive plan. Under this phase the land-use plan will serve as a basis for outlining zoning districts and as a guide for future development.

The phase also will include a street plan to insure a continuity of major streets in relation to county, state and federal thoroughfares.

Plans for the location, scale and function of community facilities also will be included in this phase.

Business District Study A special study of the central business district will be made for the purpose of determining a long-range plan for various elements of this area including use and re-use of land, vehicular and pedestrian circulation and parking.

Phase four will recommend necessary revisions to subdivision regulations which govern the platting and dividing of land.

A zoning ordinance text and districting map will be made. Procedure to effectively administer a long-range planning program and administer the zoning regulations will be outlined.

According to Tom Blum, Midwest representative, a minimum of 12 meetings will be conducted by the resident planning committee with the community during the planning period. The planning period is expected to continue 12 months after federal approval is received.

Raymond Zuehlke, 311½ E. McKinley St., was arrested about 12:30 a.m. Wednesday after an Appleton patrolman noticed him driving in an erratic manner in the 1400 block of E. College Ave.

Police learned that the car belonged to the youth's landlady. Four bottles of beer were found in the car. Police said the car was taken without the owner's permission.

Waupaca High To Produce Broadway Hit

South Pacific Set

For Three Showings, Oct. 27 Through 29

WAUPACA — The fifth year anniversary of presenting top Broadway shows by the high school will be the popular Rogers and Hammerstein "South Pacific" scheduled Oct. 27 through 29. A matinee will be given Oct. 28.

The show will be produced and directed by high school vocal director, Gerald Knepfel and speech-drama coach, Mrs. Vickie Olfe.

After 10 days of try-outs, the complete cast has been chosen. Knepfel said. The female lead of Nurse Nellie Forbush will be Laurie Freiburger. Kim Suhs, a senior will play opposite her as the French planter, Emile de Becque.

The roll of Bloody Mary will be portrayed by Barbara Griena and Bloody Mary's native daughter, Liat will be played by Dianne Schroeder. The co-male singing lead will star Steve Shambau as Lt. Joseph Cable. Dan Fonstad has been selected to play the part of Luther Billis.

The two base commanders will be played by Rick Pionke and Jon Soderberg. The Waupaca choir has already started work on the show's chorus music. Members of the choir will portray the nurses and sailors of the U.S. Navy and the natives of the isle of Bali Ha'i.

PSC Orders Bridge Removed At New London

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — The overhead bridge at the intersection of High Street in the City of New London and the tracks of the Chicago and North Western Railway may be replaced with a grade crossing, according to a State Public Service Commission order.

Removal of the bridge will be a joint project of the city, Outagamie and Waupaca counties, and the railroad, under the terms of the state commission order.

The High Street bridge is an old timber structure, the commission noted, which provides a roadway only 16 feet wide. The bridge has a posted weight limit of five tons. Because of that limitation, the bridge cannot be used by fire equipment or snow removal machines in the winter, the commission noted.

The new grade crossing is planned to provide a 33-foot roadway.

Dam Permit Granted For Waushara County

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — A permit has been issued by the state Public Service Commission to Hugo M. Steuck of Oshkosh to construct and operate a dam on an unnamed lake in the Town of Dakota in Waushara County.

The proposed dam, at the origin of an unnamed stream, will be an earthen dike with a corrugated metal pipe outlet which will be controlled by stoplogs.

The purpose of the dam, to be built on land owned by Steuck, is to raise the lake level for fish and wildlife purposes.

Bridge Between Research, Family Doctors

A plan to help reverse a "disturbing nationwide trend" toward the concentration of medical skill in large urban areas was presented Thursday night by Dr. Marvin Kagen.

The Appleton physician and Eighth District congressional candidate called for the "vigorous implementation of the regional medical centers program to bridge the gap between sophisticated medical research and the family doctor in north-eastern Wisconsin."

Speaking to the Outagamie County Democrats at Appleton's First National Bank, Dr. Kagen warned that "all too frequently young doctors prefer the stimulating atmosphere of a large urban medical complex to practicing in medium-sized cities and rural areas."

More Complicated

"The field of medicine is constantly becoming more complicated and the general practitioner must therefore devote much of his time to staying abreast of new developments. The regional medical centers plan, which encourages cooperative efforts between the state's medical schools and local hospitals and physicians, adequately provides for:

- "Training medical specialists here instead of only in Madison and Milwaukee.
- "Educational forums in which local doctors and young specialists could exchange knowledge and
- "The ready availability of specialists in the fields of heart disease, cancer and stroke."

Quality Medical Care

Dr. Kagen said putting the plan to work would result in continued high quality medical care for local citizens and in creating "the stimulating atmosphere that conscientious practicing physicians everywhere desire."

Dr. Kagen said that a regional medical center is now being proposed for the Madison-Milwaukee area, but that such a center could actually be of more value if it included a cooperative arrangement with physicians and hospitals in North-eastern Wisconsin.

"I worry that many of our elderly people, living on fixed incomes, cannot obtain the services of a specialist because he may be located too far from them," Dr. Kagen said. "A regional medical center here would mean a thriving medical complex right in our own area. A local center would bring in and keep fresh medical talent and help maintain the high standards of medical practice here."

Dr. Kagen said a regional medical center would require little additional spending, since most of the cost could be paid by switching federal funds normally allocated to the University of Wisconsin hospitals at Madison.

Paper Firms Oppose Bill

Protest Proposed Suspension of Investment Credit

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The American Paper Institute, representing the pulp, paper and paperboard industry, has gone on record in opposition to H.R. 17607, an administration sponsored bill which proposes suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, John F. Howden, vice president of the International Paper Co. and chairman of the Institute's international trade committee, said, "The proven advantages of the 7 per cent investment credit in the long term far outweigh the doubtful values of a temporary suspension."

Agreeing that "actions of some sort are necessary to keep our domestic economy strong," Howden declared that his industry does not believe that "the suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit is among them."

With regard to the pulp and paper industry's increasing export trade, Howden said that suspension of investment credit "may well result in permanent disadvantages" to the industry.

Lagged Previously

He noted that, until 1962, this country lagged behind the Common Market countries and other important nations in providing tax incentives for capital investment. "The present investment credit has been helpful in enabling American industry to modernize and become more competitive with these countries," he said, "thus enhancing our export position."

Howden continued, "To maintain our growth we must remain competitive with our competitors... this can only be done by continuously modernizing our own mills."

Speaking more generally in support of the retention of the investment credit, Howden said it is actually an anti-inflationary device, providing the necessary incentive for capital improvements which, in turn, increase production capabilities and the flow of available goods.

He added that suspension of such incentives would also conflict with important social projects, citing the example of his industry's "enormous" capital expenditures for water and air pollution abatement.

Methodists Set Church School Demonstration

KAUKAUNA — A church school demonstration program will be held Saturday at Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church on the theme "How to Teach in the Church School."

Coffee period will be from 8:30 to 9 a.m. followed by discussions and demonstrations on the theme. Persons are to bring their own noon lunch with the parish to furnish coffee and dessert. Additional discussions will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. The program is open to all teachers, assistants and future teachers.

Boys and girls will be needed to assist with the 10:30 a.m. demonstrations. Demonstration teachers attending will be Mrs. Alton Cardinal, Green Bay, kindergarten 1 and 2; Mrs. Ray Johnson, Appleton, elementary one through three; Mrs. Ellen Ruby, Oshkosh, elementary four through six; the Rev. Myron Christianson, Green Bay, junior high, and Mrs. Ronald Goolsbey, Kaukauna, senior high.

nis Werner, president; Karen Otte, vice president; Helen DeBruin, secretary, and Linda Robaidek, treasurer.

Sophomores named to the student council are Marjorie Nyman, Kaye Range and Mark Feltheim and freshmen are Barbara Schmidt, Ronald Meidam and Romona Peeters.

49th Conclave

Red Cross Procedure in Viet Nam Told at Outagamie Annual Parley

"The Red Cross is in Viet Nam because our servicemen are there; because they are our boys for whom we can provide financial assistance, counseling and communications from home," board members and volunteers of the Outagamie County Chapter of the American Red Cross were told Thursday at the 49th annual meeting.

Speaking on "Our Red Cross in Viet Nam" was Lyle L. Heide, Red Cross field director, who recently returned after 18 months of service in Viet Nam.

Heide, who had to develop a Red Cross program at Qui Nhon, an area along the coast, told the audience of the difficulties he encountered.

Work Started

"My work began in a small tent next to the helicopter pad, eventually I was moved into the hallway of the officers' quarters and finally we established a place of our own," he said.

While there, he also had to help fight a malaria epidemic which created a shortage of beds in the hospital, tents and patients had to be placed in the open air.

"The hospital operation was big, totaling 1,000 beds, and still they couldn't accommodate everyone, so you can see what kind of a situation that was," Heide said.

Upon arrival he was immediately swamped with messages from the states, and again he encountered difficulties.

"There was much delay in getting messages to those in the field and sometimes it took us 15 days to deliver them," Heide said.

Counseling Duties

Counseling, too, was an important part of the Red Cross worker's duties.

"These young people need to talk to someone who is not a military person, often just to tell another person he is scared," Heide said.

"And we often assisted those who were on leave but had no money to get home. We gave them a loan or a grant immediately because after all, a boy on leave was concerned about getting home right now — there was no time to wait until he could save money," he said.

Considered Gift

"If he could not repay us we would tell them that this was a gift of the Red Cross, and thereby, the American people," Heide explained.

The field director also praised the chaplains, "who are often right up there with the boys; who helped us deliver the messages from home and ease the pain when there was bad news," he said.

The Red Cross program has expanded now and there are about 225 staff members in the area. The latest addition of services are the Red Cross centers to serve those who don't necessarily need hospitalization or other care but would like to talk to an American girl, write a letter or just get a cup of coffee, Heide said.

"Whatever the services, you can be proud that you and people like you volunteering your time and effort to the Red Cross, made them possible," Heide told the volunteers.

New Officers

New Outagamie Chapter officers were also elected. Dr. H. P. Dixon, will serve as the new chairman, replacing Donald Morrissey; Lloyd Taylor, vice chairman, replacing Dixon; Gilbert A. Beglinger and Mrs. George Boyd will remain as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Two new members on the executive committee are Ivo Van Handel and Owen Kuehmsied, replacing Robert Masse and Col. Max A. Brackett.

Re-elected to three-year terms were Morrissey, Richard Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Petersen. Newly-elected members of the board are Paul Steinert, Norbert Rhinerson, Mrs. Eugene Pierce, Stephen Freschl and William Selle.

Certificates of merit were presented to Orville Nelson, Hortonville, in behalf of the new rural board; and Kuehmsied, Hortonville, retiring members. Doerfler also received a plaque from the national headquarters for his outstanding volunteer work.

Judge Seeks Statewide Legislation

Dodge County Also Has Jurisdictional Problems

Outagamie County Court isn't the only court in the state with jurisdictional problems. Dodge County has the same predicament — and probably worse.

Dodge County Judge Clarence G. Traeger called attention to the problem in his county in a letter received Thursday by Assemblyman Harold V. Froehlich of Appleton and Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller, because the judge, following a County Judge Traeger asked that petition from the man's attorney, introduced a bill in the legislature that would jurisdiction over offenses that occur in the Calumet County courts to include all counties, but for all courts where the present areas of jurisdiction encompass cities or south of the Outagamie County villages that lie in more than one county.

Froehlich, Outagamie County First District Republican, said earlier this week he intends to introduce a bill early in the 1967 session of the state legislature that would allow Outagamie County need in this county (Dodge) for be restricted to Appleton."

County Court Branch 2 jurisdiction over Appleton ordinance violations that occur in the border of the county which lie in more than one county. "For instance, Waupun is in Dodge County, but the Village of Randolph is in Columbia and Dodge County, and the City of Watertown is in Jefferson and Dodge Counties."

Judge Traeger informed Froehlich that he thinks if the present law is amended, jurisdiction should be given to all counties courts to include all parts of cities and villages lying in two or more counties.

He continued, "I am sending a copy of this letter to the Judicial Council in the hope that they may take an active part in the introduction of the legislation with you, Mr. Froehlich, and I trust that any offer of similar legislation will be broad enough to cover all situations and not need to be restricted to Appleton."

Seymour Eyes Third Straight NEW Victory

Duels Oconto Falls Tonight; Bonduel Meets Pulaski

N. E. W. CONFERENCE
West De Pere	2	0	Algonia
Seymour	2	0	Bonduel
De Pere	2	0	Oconto Falls
Kewaunee	2	0	Pulaski
Sturgeon Bay	1	1	Oconto

Seymour High School, one of four co-leaders in the North-eastern Wisconsin Conference's football race, will be favored to win its third straight game tonight.

The Indians will play host to winless Oconto Falls. Bonduel will be seeking its first conference win when it plays host tonight to equally winless Pulaski.

The NEW's feature game matches co-leaders West De Pere and Kewaunee. The Phantoms have a 13-game unbeaten streak going, while Kewaunee has not allowed a point in its last 27 quarters (covering 1965 and this season).

Seymour has averaged 29 points a game, while allowing only 6½. Oconto Falls, on the other hand, has averaged only 3.5 while giving up 21.2.

Seymour's Ron Mueller is the leading passer in the league, with 19 successes in 34 attempts for 269 yards. His two main receivers also pace the circuit. Jerry Kranzush has caught eight for 95 yards, while Tony Skenandore has pulled in six for 83 yards. Skenandore is also second in league scoring, with 24 points.

Bonduel and Pulaski have almost identical offensive records - totaling only six and seven points, respectively - but the Bears have a defensive edge (having given up an average of 19.5 while Pulaski has surrendered 35½ per game).
